

PRESIDENT FIGHTING HARD TO SAVE THE SHIPWRECK PEACE COMMISSION FROM

THEIR FOOD WAS SHARKS

Crew and Passengers Driven to Desperate Extremities on Wrecked Steamer.

NEW YORK, August 22.—The steamer Athos, twenty-two days late, with seven passengers and a cargo of rotten bananas, and the bones of half eaten sharks on board to indicate the perils of her voyage, arrived off Scotland Lightship last night.

ROD BREAKS.
On July 30 the Donald Steamship Company's steamer Athos left Port Antonio, Jamaica, for New York, a six days' voyage, with provisions in plenty for this short period. Three hours out of Port an eccentric rod on the engine broke, and from that hour until last Sunday, proceeding sometimes only an hour a day, under her own steam, the Athos drifted at the mercy of storms, in constant danger of famine, once without drinking water, and receiving supplies from time to time of passing vessels.

On August 20 the disabled steamer gave up and signalled the steamer Altai for a tow. This steamer brought the Athos to New York. The trouble was in the engine room. From July 30 to August 2 two or three breaks daily in the engine were recorded. The log shows that the delay was only thirty minutes long on August 5. Two days later the catching of sharks is recorded. Chinamen on board attempted to eat the sharks, but the meat made them ill and the fish were thrown into the sea.

WATER TAINTED.
On August 8 the disabled steamer sighted the Adriatic and signalled "all well on board," but on the tenth the last tank of water was opened and was found to be tainted with the juice of rotting bananas.

Some dolphins were caught two days later and on August 13 the incipient famine was further relieved by the steamer Montevideo, which supplied provisions.

ENGINES USELESS.
For nearly a week, between August 10 and August 17, the engines shaft was useless, and not only was the steamer forced to drift about while repairs were under way, but for two days of this period a great storm and high seas broke over the helpless steamship. The log meanwhile indicated that more dolphins were caught. Finally on August 18 the coupling flange broke, and the Athos abandoned the attempt to reach New York under her own steam, after twenty days of continuous accidents. It was decided to accept the offer of a tow. This did not come for two days, during which a second food famine was averted by the steamer Vera, which came alongside the Athos, supplying eatables and drinkables. Worse even than the dangers of the sea and famine, the passengers say, was the odor of the decayed banana cargo.

TOW LINE BREAKS.
At Scotland Lightship last night the tow line broke, as a last chapter in her long series of accidents, and the Athos could not repair the broken line in the dark, but anchored for the night while the Altai brought her passengers to quarantine. Today tugs were sent out to bring the Athos into port.

THOSE ON BOARD.
The passengers were John Douglas Donald, son of the owners of the Athos; Miss Jennie Damshee, the boy's aunt; Mr. and Mrs. Morris Lunn, of Rosebank, Staten Island, and Keith and Fred Saunders, of Bay Ridge, N. J., friends of young Donald, and Henry Tamke. The entire party were guests of John A. Donald, president of the Donald Steamship Company, who sent them on the Athos for a summer vacation trip.

The Altai towed the Athos two hundred and sixty-seven miles.

SMALL FIGHTS.
Passengers of the Athos, on landing today, reported that the famine caused small mutinies among the ship's crew of eighteen Chinamen.

Trouble first started among the coolies over the dearth of tobacco and rice.

A negro helper was stabbed during one of the fights, but the officers and passengers were not seriously menaced. At one time the only water to be had was ocean brine, which had been boiled and condensed. One swallow a day to each person was all this process furnished.

SENDS A SECRET MESSENGER FIRE SWEEPS TO CALL ON RUSSIANS PORTLAND

Twenty Buildings Are Destroyed and the Loss Will Amount to $100,000.

PORTLAND, Ore., August 22.—Fire which started in a restaurant on the north side of East Stark street, about one hundred feet east of Union Avenue, destroyed four blocks in which was located the business center of the oldest part of Portland today. The loss is approximately $100,000; the insurance will probably cover a third of the loss.

TWENTY BUILDINGS BURNED.
With but a few exceptions, the twenty buildings destroyed were shacks, mostly occupied by Chinese laundries and second-hand stores. There were, however, several pretentious structures in the burned district, including the old Cully block, on the northeast corner of Union and East Oak, the Kaddery block on the east side of Grand Avenue, and between East Oak and East Pine, and the East Portland I. O. O. F. Hall on the southeast corner of East Pine and Grand Avenue. In addition to these, the city will lose heavily on account of the elevated roadways burned.

DRAFT FOR FIRE.
The area burned lies almost entirely over a gulch and is built on staging.

This gave the fire an immense draft, and it swept from one shack to another with indescribable rapidity.

The fire department was powerless to control the flames until they reached buildings on solid ground.

AREA BURNED.
The area burned extends from the northeast intersection of East Stark and Union Avenue, north along the east side of Union Avenue to East Pine street, along the south side of East Pine to East Sixth, south to East Park and west to Union Avenue.

TRESTLE STANDS.
The only thing that remains standing is the badly damaged trestle along Grand Avenue, on which the tracks of the Portland Consolidated run; one wall of the Kaddery building and the front of the Cully block. These two and the Iowa Hotel building, in which the fire started, were three-story brick structures. The hotel was valued at about $20,000, the Cully block, $30,000, the Kaddery building, including the stock, about $60,000 and the I. O. O. F. building about $5,000. The balance of the loss is small amounts ranging from $100 to $2500.

THE DOCTOR: "OPEN YOUR MOUTH!"

—The N. Y. World.

Envoys Are Waiting for the Final Word From the Czar—Negotiations Postponed Until Tomorrow.

PORTSMOUTH, August 22.—President Roosevelt is energetically continuing his efforts to save the peace conference from shipwreck. The sensation of the day was a mysterious visit paid by M. Witte and Baron Rosen to the navy yard, where Mr. Peirce delivered to them a message in writing from President Roosevelt, which had been brought from Oyster Bay by a confidential messenger named McGaw.

Then for about three hours M. Witte and Baron Rosen remained at the yard and it is believed were in direct or indirect communication with the President. After their return to the hotel they absolutely declined to make any statement. It is assumed the President's message was the result of Baron Kaneko's visit to Oyster Bay yesterday morning.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., August 22.—(Sakhallen), or article nine (indemnity). The following official bulletin was issued at 10:20 a. m.:

"Owing to the impossibility of finishing before 3 o'clock this afternoon the work of preparing the protocols of the meeting of the conference today has been adjourned until 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning."

THE REASONS.

The official reason assigned for the change of program was that the secretaries had not yet completed the work of drafting the protocols for the signatures of the plenipotentiaries. This is true, but there is a more potent reason. M. Witte has not yet received final word from St. Petersburg. It was expected this morning. It did not come, and therefore, with M. Witte's authorization, Mr. Plencoon, who was hard at work upon the Russian protocol, went to Mr. Sato, the Japanese secretary, and suggested the postponement. Baron Komura approved and the announcement was issued. As the situation now stands, M. Witte could not, if he would, recede or compromise on either Article five (Sakhallen), or article nine (indemnity). The instructions given him by the Emperor before he left St. Petersburg precluded the possibility of either, and it can be stated up to the present hour every message he has received indirectly or directly from his Emperor, shows no sign of any change of mind. And from the private advices the advisers whom the Emperor is consulting seem practically unanimous in support of the view that further concessions are inconsistent with Russia's dignity and honor, and that unless Japan is prepared to yield something substantial—not upon Articles 10 or 11, but upon Articles 5 and 8—it is better to continue the war.

WAIT FOR EMPEROR.

There is a strong intimation that the Japanese are opposed to making a proposition when the conference reconvenes. But there is nothing to indicate that they are prepared to recede on either Articles 5 or 9. Articles 10 and 11 they might forego, but that would hardly bring peace nearer. Five and nine remain now, as at the beginning, the seemingly insuperable obstacles to peace.

Article 10 of Japan's demands provides that the Russian warships interned in neutral ports shall be turned over to Japan.

Article 11 calls for the limitation of Russia's naval power in the Far East.

QUIET TALK.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., August 22.—At 1 o'clock today a personal representative of President Roosevelt was closeted with M. Witte and Baron Rosen in the naval stores building at the navy yard.

The appointment of the conference was made through Secretary Peirce last night. It is not known yet who the emissary of the President is. This sensation is yet unknown at the Wentworth.

ASSESSORS BEFORE THE STATE BOARD

Los Angeles Supervisors Making a Fight to Secure a Reduction.

SACRAMENTO, August 22.—In compliance with a request to be heard, the State Board of Equalization today took up the assessment of Los Angeles county, including the city of Los Angeles.

The Supervisors petition for a reduction of assessment and were represented today by C. W. Longden, chairman of the board, and J. O. Lowe, a real estate broker. Benjamin Ward, the Assessor of Los Angeles county, was present to resist any attempt at reduction. Dr. Washington Dodge, Assessor of San Francisco; Assessor T. H. Berkley and E. J. Kay, deputy Assessor of Sacramento county; and Assessor H. P. Dalton of Alameda county were interested attendants upon the meeting today.

TO DEFEND VALUES.
The Real Estate Board of San Francisco has asked for a hearing tomorrow and Dodge was early on the ground to defend the valuations placed on properties by him. Longden read a formal application of considerable length, in which the Supervisors of Los Angeles county asked for a horizontal reduction of 25 per cent. in its assessment as returned by Assessor Ward. A list of comparative assessments upon various counties dating back to 1903 was read by Longden in an effort to show the inequality of the burden imposed upon Los Angeles. Longden's statement averred that Los Angeles county was assessed for 40 per cent. of the increase of assessed valuation of the entire State for 1904.

In round figures Assessor Ward put a valuation of $27,000,000 on all property in Los Angeles county and the Supervisors ask that $10,000,000 of this valuation be wiped out.

the assessed valuations returned by the assessors.

In the year March 1, 1902, to March 1, 1903, Lowe said, building permits had been issued as follows:

Los Angeles, $11,113,000; San Francisco, $17,000,000; San Diego, $12,000,000; Alameda, $12,000,000; Contra Costa, $15,000,000.

DODGE ON HAND.

Assessor Dodge, of San Francisco, made the point that Lowe's figures related solely to the city of Los Angeles and did not take into the county, which includes 22 incorporated cities and towns, while he had taken everything in San Francisco city and county for purposes of comparison. Dodge said he was credible informed that the building permits issued in Los Angeles county, outside the city of Los Angeles, would exceed those of Los Angeles. It is not fair, he declared, to make the comparison between Los Angeles and San Francisco as Lowe was seeking to do.

JOURNALISTS TALK OF PEACE TERMS
ST. PETERSBURG, August 22.—Referring to the question of arbitration, the unsettled points of the Japanese demands, the Russ and the Novor Vremya declare that arbitration is impossible because the questions at issue are so vital to both countries. The Soviet says that Russia has declared against arbitration and that she cannot make concessions. The papers generally argue, as they have been doing for the last two weeks, against further concessions.

LEPROSY CURED IN MANILA

American Physician has Found a Way to Treat Disease.

MANILA, August 22.—What appears to be a well authenticated instance of the cure of leprosy has been found here. A few weeks ago a patient who had been afflicted with leprosy and who had been under treatment for that disease died of liver complaint. After the patient's death every part of the body was subjected to a searching microscopic examination by bacteriologists, but not the slightest trace of leprosy could be found.

Dr. H. B. Willkinson is the physician who treated the patient for leprosy. He is a graduate of the University of Virginia, class of 1894.

ROOSEVELT RIGHT IN EARNEST

Does Not Want the Peace Envoys to Break Apart.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., August 22.—Although President Roosevelt has not relaxed his efforts to bring the peace envoys into agreement, a distinct lull in the negotiations was noticeable here today. No visitors on business were expected. Assistant Secretary of State Peirce is at Portsmouth, keeping the President advised of the proceedings there, but the precise nature of the proceedings there is not disclosed. So long as the conference is in session the President will hold himself in readiness to assist the envoys in any proper way to reach a successful conclusion of their mission. He is very much interested in the efforts he is making now to clear the way to an agreement.

That the President's earnestest work of his staff officers, arrived here today on a special train from Quebec.

NEGRO HIGHWAYMAN AT WORK IN BERKELEY

Holds Up a Victim at the Point of a Pistol and Gets $220.

BERKELEY, August 22.—A negro woman footpad has been operating in Berkeley for two weeks and the police are now diligently searching for this novelty in the criminal line. Last Sunday night this remarkable lady footpad stood up Thomas Driscoll at the corner of Addison and Fourth streets in West Berkeley, and at the point of a pistol made him hand over $220. Driscoll resides at the Franklin Hotel in West Berkeley. He at once reported the robbery to the police and gave a good description of the woman who had held him up.

ANOTHER VICTIM.
At about the same time John Downey, who resides at the Atholton Hotel in East Berkeley, reported having had an encounter with the same negro "highway woman." Two nights before in the same vicinity Driscoll was robbed of his fortune. Downey was stood up and $15, all that he had, was secured. DETECTIVES AT WORK.

Detectives Jamison and Parker at once were put on the trail of this unique footpad. They have discovered that she is a notorious character, and goes under the name of Clara Stokes. She had been living at the home of a family named Clark at 2112 Fifth street in West Berkeley. When the police called at the Clark house the Stokes woman was given warning of their presence. While the officers were in conversation at the front door the negroess escaped from the rear of the building. The police have sent out descriptions of this woman to other towns and expect soon to have her behind the bars.

GRAND JURY IS AT WORK

County Officials Called to Tell About Their Supplies.

The Grand Jury took up in earnest this morning the investigation of the alleged infraction of the stationery bills of the various county offices. Otto L. Hasse, formerly of the Central News Company, spent an hour in answering the interrogatories asked him by the different grand jurors. The jurors had been supplied by Attorney Ben Woolner with the bills he had found in the Central News Store, which pertained to the purchase through Hasse of furniture and supplies.

County Expert Joan Sabin was one of the first witnesses called and took with him the bills sworn to by Hasse as being true and correct, and which were recently investigated by the Board of Supervisors and cut down nearly $1000. The jurors thus had before them the bills as they were cut by the Supervisors and also had a copy of the testimony given by each witness before that body.

Thus prepared they set to work this morning and County Surveyor E. C. Frasier was one of the first of the county officials to be called. He declared before the Board of Supervisors that his bills are not now in the condition they were in when he placed his O. K. upon them, and that there are items on them he never ordered or received or accepted. He stated that he never ordered penholders by the gross and that he had not used that number since he had been in office and that he never put his O. K. on a bill charging him up with such amounts.

After getting an idea of the line of testimony to be expected from the different officials, Otto L. Hasse was called. It is expected that his examination will be searching and go into all of the alleged changes made on the bills.

Salesman Waterbury of the Fuller Desk Company is also to be subpoenaed and asked concerning the purchase of supplies through his firm.

INITIATE COMING MEN OF AMERICA

Samuel Wentworth and Charles Sigony were initiated on Monday evening, August 21st for membership to Coming Men of America. After the initiation, a meeting was held in the lodge hall at Ninth and Market streets. There was a great deal of business on hand, which made a long, but pleasant session. The names of the eight new applicants were voted upon, six of which were blackballed, allowing two to enter the lodge. After the meeting the new members recited the test of brotherhood and were given their certificates.

GRAND COUNCIL OF Y. M. I.

INSTITUTE HOLDS TWENTY-FIFTH ANNUAL SESSION AT SANTA CRUZ.

SANTA CRUZ, August 22. — The twenty-fifth Grand Council of the Young Men's Institute, Pacific Coast jurisdiction, commenced its annual session in this city yesterday. One hundred and ten delegates and grand officers, representing forty-eight councils and about 1000 members, are in attendance. Solemn high mass was celebrated at the Holy Cross Church yesterday morning by Father Fisher, a local priest, assisted by Father Foley of Alameda, and Father Hennessy of Capitola. Grand Chaplain Father Slattery was master of the ceremonies, which were very impressive.

The Grand Council was called to order in Casino Hall in the afternoon by Grand President J. F. Fitzgerald of San Jose, who announced the following heads of committees: Credentials, J. J. McQuay of San Francisco, chairman; press, John H. Bowen of Gilroy, chairman; intelligence, F. Collins of Fresno, chairman; state of institute, Paul Grand President of A. F. St. Sure of Alameda, chairman; laws and supervision, F. J. O'Brien of Sacramento, chairman; resolutions, Paul Grand President of A. F. St. Sure of San Francisco, chairman; finance, J. B. Queen of San Francisco, chairman.

The chief business of the Grand Council will be the consideration of the reports of the grand president and the grand secretary, George A. Stanley of San Francisco, who has been acting as special organizer during the past year. A large sum of money was approved by the last Grand Council for organizational purposes, and a very creditable increase in the membership and general condition of the order on the Coast will be shown by these reports.

Last evening a reception and ball were given in Casino Hall in honor of the Grand Council by St. Agnes' Young Women's Institute of this city. An address of welcome was made by president J. J. Doran of the local Young Men's Institute and a response by Grand President Fitzgerald.

Considerable canvassing for the election of officers, which takes place on Thursday, is already under way. G. Willey, Mission Council, No. 3, San Francisco, is much talked of for grand president. He is a native of San Francisco and is slated for promotion from second vice president to first vice president. Grand Director Frank J. O'Brien of Sacramento aspires to succeed Burke J. Henry Long of Oakland and Dr. J. V. Cravotta of San Francisco are candidates for grand directors.

RACING ENDS IN THE NORTH

PORTLAND, Oregon, August 22. — The Multnomah Fair Association today made the special announcement that the racing season in this city has been declared off. The decision of the association was the direct result of the decision of the courts forbidding betting betting at the track.

DEMENTED MAN IS SAVED FROM BAY

John Anderson, a demented gardener, was rescued at noon today from the mud and water at the foot of Harrison street where he had waded in with the evident intention of drowning himself. He was taken out by persons who saw him endeavoring to reach deep water and who went out to his rescue in a boat. His talk soon convinced them that he was not in his right mind and the Police Patrol was summoned. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital where he was placed in the insane ward.

Anderson gave his age as thirty-three and says he is a gardener, but that for some time past he has been employed on a dredger which is working at Point Richmond. He says that his home is in San Francisco. He refused to explain what had caused him to wade out into the bay.

RUSSIANS VOTE FOR PEACE

Order Their Delegates to Make a New Proposition.

PARIS, August 22.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Temps, contradicts the reports sent to the London Times and the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger, to the effect that at a council held at Petrohof it was decided not to make further peace concessions. He says that the council, on the contrary, pronounced by a small majority for the conclusion of peace and that the Emperor has ordered the Russian delegates to make a new proposition relative to indemnity.

The correspondent adds that the Russian delegates have received telegrams from the generals in the field urging against the conclusion of an unfavorable peace, as the army feels sure of victory.

CANNOT LOSE WOMAN NEW PAROCHIAL RESIDENCE
WHOSE KISSES HE SPURNS AND CLUB HOUSE

Mrs. Jacobson Creates Scene by Embracing Man Fined $50 for Spitting on Her.

John Ampuero who spat in the face of Mrs. Kjerstine Jacobson, who claims to be his discarded wife because she tried to kiss him when they met on the street, was fined $50 this morning by Judge Smith. After the fine had been paid and Ampuero walked out of the courtroom Mrs. Jacobson followed him into the corridor and wildly flung her arms around him and kissed him madly.

Ampuero's other wife, Mrs. Bessie Ampuero, who is much younger and better looking than the woman whom she is alleged to have displaced was beaten by Mrs. Jacobson while she was detaining the man she claims as husband with kisses. Ampuero struggled hard to free himself from the clutches of Mrs. Jacobson, but the love-mad woman fought with the fury of a tiger to keep the man she lost ten years ago in her arms and prevented his young and pretty wife from interfering.

"Oh, John, I love you," the discarded woman cried. "Why do you not come back to me?"

Ampuero, having well in mind the fine imposed on him by Judge Smith was attempting to escape from the unwanted advances by force and diplomacy rather than by force and violence. He finally extricated himself from the arms of the woman he has learned to hate and fled. The action of Mrs. Jacobson led those who witnessed the frenzied scene to believe that the older woman has brooded over the loss of the man she loves to such an extent that she is mentally unbalanced. She was taken into custody on suspicion of being insane.

For ten years since Ampuero is alleged to have abandoned her in Pleasanton for his present wife, she has followed him like his shadow trying to win back his love and making it unpleasant for the present wife.

ADMITS VISITING WOMAN DEMANDS INDEMNITY

Tighe Tells on Stand How He Courted Miss Hampden.

The contest over the possession of the two children of V. C. Tighe, of Madeira was resumed this morning before Judge Melvin and Tighe's attorneys are busy clearing up his moral character which was darkened by the testimony of Mrs. Elizabeth Morrison the sister of his former wife. Mrs. Morrison has the children now in her custody and says that her former brother-in-law is not a fit person to have the charge or custody of them. She told of a number of acts that caused Tighe's little daughter to refuse to kiss him, and declared that the boy promises to be developed into a moral monster if left under the father's control.

Tighe, himself, was put on the stand by Attorneys Crosby and McElroy for Mrs. Morrison, and they got an admission from him that he had visited a Miss Hampden at the Graystone Hotel in San Francisco while he was still married to his former wife and while they were still living apart. He admitted that when he went to San Francisco that he went to see Miss Hampden and was accustomed to go there either at night time or during the day as the fancy seized him and that finally when his wife had got a divorce from him, he had married the woman.

Attorneys Lukens and O'Brien this morning began by putting on some character witnesses in an effort to show that notwithstanding these shortcomings people thought he was a right and honest man and a proper person to have the children. In support of this R. Roberts, a rugged ranchman of Madeira was called. When he was asked his occupation he said ranchman and when asked if he did not own a bank at Madeira he acknowledged that he did.

Roberts had come from Madeira to testify in Tighe's behalf and said that he had known him for thirteen or fourteen years. When asked if he knew what Tighe's reputation for truth, honesty and morality was, he said that he did and when asked what it was he said it was good.

Attorney McElroy then wanted to know what requirements he considered were necessary to sustain a reputation for morality but had not proceeded far along this line when Judge Melvin stopped him for he said this could be found out in a dictionary. McElroy said that he only wanted to find out what Roberts' idea of morality was, as it is understood at Madeira.

Roberts was then asked what relations he had with Tighe and he said that Tighe had applied to him for a loan and that at that time his character had been discussed and it was believed to be all right. He stated that they could not find out that Tighe had ever been in any one out of any money and seemed to pay his bills regularly and that it was upon this knowledge that he said that his reputation was good.

Tighe is at the head of a corporation at Madeira and has a number of other witnesses who are ready to swear that his reputation is good and that he should have the care of his two children.

Sultan Must Pay for Arrest of Algerian Chief.

TANGIER, Morocco, August 22.—The French Minister, Strené Tallianer, has presented to the Sultan, Mulai Abdel Assiz, an energetic demand for an indemnity of $2,000, for the recent arrest of a Franco-Algerian citizen. The Minister also demands the punishment of the official responsible for the arrest, and an additional indemnity of $100 daily until the prisoner is released.

It is believed that the Sultan will promptly grant the demands of the Minister, as it is definitely known that the French Government is determined to adopt forcible means to bring the Sultan to terms, should satisfaction not be given, including if necessary, the occupation of a Moroccan port.

This incident is independent of the Franco-German controversy regarding the proposed international differences. Indeed, it is known that Germany approves the course of France in resenting the unwarranted arrest of one of her citizens. This German approval goes even beyond the desire of France, as the German Government has given official notification of its intention to support the action of the French Government, whereas the latter has not sought, directly or indirectly, any support in maintaining the rights of French citizens.

Moroccan officials recently arrested the chief of the Algerian settlement at Gharb, because of local troubles. The demand of the French Minister for the release of the Algerian was refused, the Sultan claiming that all Musselmans the moment they entered Morocco came under his jurisdiction at Casablanca.

MAN'S REQUIREMENTS.

Man cannot live by bread alone, As has been wisely said, He has to have his breakfast food To keep a level head.

The nitrogen his brain demands And blood his system needs Are not in bread, alas, alone! And so on meat he feeds.

Man cannot live by bread alone, Nor does he care to try, But if he had the chance he'd like To get along on pie. —S. E. Kiser

MINING DEBRIS DANGEROUS

U. S. ENGINEER HARTS DISCUSSES SUBJECT IN SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 22.—William H. Harts of the United States Army corps of engineers addressed a large audience in Academy of Sciences Hall last night, his subject being "The Control of Hydraulic Mining Debris in California by the Federal Government." The lecture was illustrated by original lantern slides and outlined the work of the California Debris Commission since 1888.

"The acrimonious fight which had been going on for years between the mining and farming interests ended about 1880 by the effectual throttling of the former by means of injunctions," he said. "But the debris continued to come down the San Joaquin and Sacramento rivers in almost as great abundance as ever, there being vast quantities of loose material still lying within the watershed."

"Brush and log-camp dams were built across the ravines below the mines and no mines were allowed to operate without a special permit from the Commission. The cost of this work, except for the plans and inspection, has to be borne by the mine-owners, and though the restrictions are too severe to encourage the resumption of hydraulic mining on a large scale, there are now about 700 permits in force and 100,000,000 cubic yards are thus mined every year."

The lecturer described the debris-impounding structures which have already been placed along the Yuba. Moderately high dams have been constructed in the foothills to catch the coarser materials, with settling basins in the slopes below which restrain the finer debris. In some places, training walls have been built to prevent the current from scouring out the alluvial deposits along its banks. Similar works are planned for the Bear and for the American rivers and it is hoped eventually to counteract the forces which are now depositing sand bars at Suisun and which have raised the river-bed near Marysville to thirteen feet above the height of its old banks.

RECIPROCITY IS OPPOSED

HONOLULU CHAMBER OF COMMERCE FEARS A TARIFF REDUCTION.

HONOLULU, August 15, via San Francisco, August 22.—At the last meeting of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce a communication was received from New York, asking the cooperation of the organization in a reciprocity scheme. Local sentiment is largely opposed to such a policy as likely to result in cutting down the tress. They are to be planted in Guam and the Philippines.

Local Chinese who raised money to assist the boycott of American goods in China have received an answer to their offer of funds, stating that such assistance is not needed now. The sum of $30,000 was offered by Honolulu Chinese.

Acting Governor Atkinson and Treasurer Campbell have signed a charter for the Koolau Railway Company, which proposes to build a railroad encircling the Island of Oahu. At present, however, only a few short lines will be constructed.

The army transport Sherman, leaving yesterday for Guam and Manila, took a large collection of ironwood trees, rattail pear seeds and cypress tariff on sugar, and the communication was tabled.

NEW PAROCHIAL RESIDENCE AND CLUB HOUSE

Changes are now being made in the structures located on the block bounded by Seventh, Eighth, Grove and Jefferson streets, on which stands the Church of the Immaculate Conception, which will add greatly to the appearance of the structures located there and accommodations to officiating clergy and members of the parish not now enjoyed by them.

NEW PASTORAL RESIDENCE.

The most important of these will be a new pastoral residence, which is to be located at the northwest corner of Seventh and Jefferson streets. This structure is to supersede the home of the clergy which is now and which for the past forty-five years has been located on Seventh street midway between Jefferson and Grove streets.

HOME OF AN EARLY PRIEST.

The antique home of the clergy was erected by the pioneer priest, the late Rev. Michael King. It was modest in size and ornamentation when it was first taken possession of, but grew in proportions, without, however, altering its architectural simplicity as the years advanced and the corps of assistant priests increased.

For many years it has been anything but a comfortable abode for the clergy. It lacked many of the accommodations which are to be found in residences of a later date, and this fact coupled with the other that the weight of years has made its life a burden, has impelled the new pastor, Rev. Edward P. Dempsey, to undertake the erection of a new parochial home commensurate with the requirements of the clergy connected with the church.

ENDORSED BY PEOPLE.

In this undertaking Father Dempsey has the endorsement and support of the congregation. The pastor is a young man, capable of putting forth a great deal of intelligent and well directed effort. In fact, he has been heartily encouraged in the project because the members of the church know that the erection of a new parochial house was a commission which the late pastor, because of his advanced years, wished to be entrusted to a priest of fewer years.

The new structure will be homelike and practical without moribund ornamentation, yet presenting a tasteful appearance.

In order to erect it on the corner referred to, the boys' school, which has stood there for years is to be moved back on the lot toward Grove street and adjoining the old pastoral residence on the east.

There it will remain until the new parochial house is completed and taken possession by the clergy.

OLD HOME AS CLUBHOUSE.

When that has been accomplished the old pastoral home will be moved from its present location on Seventh street, between Clay and Grove streets, to a point on Seventh street midway between the same two streets. The old home out of the way, the little school will be again placed on rollers and will be led to rest on the site of the former home.

After the old residence finds a resting place for its aged limbs it will be put through a course of renovation. The elixir of life will be infused after the manner known to alchemic artisans and the building eventually applied as a clubhouse for the young people of the various sodalities and organizations of the parish.

The bunched and unattractive eucalyptus trees whose boughs hang despondently over the high board fence, will be removed. Down will go the fence, and, disclosed to view, surrounding the clubhouse, will be a well-kept lawn studded with palms and ferns with similar trees running along the park between the sidewalk and the curb.

The school, which has already started on the first part of its journey, contractors are figuring on the plans of the architects for the parish house and all the improvements contemplated will be rushed forward with the energy which the urgency of the situation requires.

SISTER STANDS BETWEEN LOVE AND DUTY

Has Brother Arrested for Burglary But is Tardy in Swearing to Complaint.

August Fromme is under arrest at the city prison on a charge of burglary preferred by his sister, Mrs. Lizzie Selg, who resides at 1829 Fifth street. The prisoner who is but 20 years of age is accused of having entered the dwelling of his sister through a rear window last night and to have searched the house for valuables. He discovered a purse containing $14.85 cents and he is alleged to have stolen this.

The minute the theft was committed young Fromme is alleged to have thrown caution to the winds in his effort to get away undetected. He plunged through a window, breaking the glass and making a sufficient noise to awaken his sister, who was able to catch a glimpse of the fleeing thief. She at once telephoned to the police, with the result that Policeman Cockerton was on the scene in a few minutes. A search of the premises was made and young Fromme found shivering in the basement. His sister bitterly upbraided him and would not listen to his appeals not to have him arrested.

"You will have to take the consequence of your act," the sister said, turning a deaf ear to the pleadings of her brother. "It is not the first time you have been in trouble."

There were more pleadings, but to no avail.

When the dramatic scene between the brother and sister was over Policeman Cockerton stopped forward and placed Fromme under arrest. He was taken to the city prison and placed on the detinue book. Thus far the sister has not appeared to make a complaint against her brother. It is a question whether her natural feeling for her brother or her stern sense of duty and justice will prevail.

Fromme feels his disgrace deeply, but is not inclined to talk. He has hopes that his sister will relent and not place a charge against him, which if found to be true by a jury, will send him to State's prison as a burglar of the first degree.

UNEASY FEELING ON BOURSE

RUSSIAN "FOURS" HAVE DECLINED WHEN PORTSMOUTH NEWS IS RECEIVED.

PARIS, August 22.—A feeling of deep solitude prevails concerning the crisis at Portsmouth, which officials expect will continue for some days pending the last desperate efforts to avert a rupture. The view in official quarters took a discouraging turn, apparently as the result of confidential advice through official Russian sources.

The Bourse today at first showed surprising buoyancy, Russian "fours" opening at an advance of 25 centimes, but later discouraging advices from Portsmouth, for the first time, dispelled the optimistic feeling of the market and caused a general decline. Shortly before the close Russians and other securities were heavily offered and their closing was weak.

MISS PELADEAU WAS WED IN SECRET

After Three Years She Tells Her Parents and Now Everybody is Happy.

An interesting disclosure was made today when the announcement of the marriage of Miss Genevieve A. Peladeau and John J. Brennan, a well-known coal merchant of Berkeley, which took place on November 9, 1902, was made public.

The contracting parties are first cousins.

The ceremony was performed in St. Patrick's Church in San Francisco, by the Rev. Father Heslin, who was then pastor of St. Colombas Parish at Golden Gate.

It is stated that a special dispensation was granted the contracting parties by the Pope in order that they might wed, as the rules of the Catholic Church prevent the marriage of first cousins.

The wedding was kept a strict secret from the relatives of the young lady, and she remained at home during all this time.

When the announcement of the marriage was made the parties were forgiven and have now gone to housekeeping.

Mr. Brennan is a member of the well-known coal firm of Brennan & Curtis.

The bride is a member of an old and distinguished family of Emeryville, and has lived here for a number of years. She has a host of friends.

TAX TITLES AT FLORAL TRIBUTES ISSUE FOR THE DEAD

IMPORTANT POINT IS RAISED IN THE SUPERIOR COURT.

OFFICERS AND MEN OF THE ITALIAN CRUISER AT CEMETERY.

A point of much moment involving the constitutionality of all tax titles issued by the State for many years has been raised in the trial of the case of W. Haynes Hall against Katherine McElrath over a piece of property in the Alameda tract. While the piece involved is not of much value, the point made is directed against all tax titles, and from the argument made by Judge McElrath has convinced Judge W. H. Wastie that it is a very important question, and he stated today that he would not pass upon it without taking considerable time to look into it.

COUNTY OFFICERS SUMMONED

The Grand Jury will meet today and the Sheriff's office has been busy serving notices on the following witnesses to be present at its meeting: County Recorder A. K. Grim, Deputy County Treasurer Charles Husband, County Expert John Sabin, County Supervisor C. E. Prather, County Superintendent of Schools P. O. Crawford, Attorney Ben F. Woolsey, representing Mrs. Lotie Chesley; Under Sheriff J. J. Hanlin, Chief Jailor Harry A. Clark and Otto Hesse, former manager of the Central News Store.

DR. E. H. WOOLSEY IS IN OAKLAND.

And is Disgusted by a Taste of Street Car Courtesy

Dr. E. H. Woolsey reached home this morning after an extended tour in the North, during which he visited Portland, Seattle, Victoria, Tacoma, Vancouver, Sitka and other Alaskan ports. "Hitherto upon returning from tours and excursions both abroad and in the United States, I have been pleased to get home," said Dr. Woolsey, "but this time I was filled with disgust upon my arrival at the Sixteenth Street Station. At every town visited by me in the Northwest there were carriages, hotel busses and transfer wagons at the trains and wharves, ready to transport passengers, including all hand baggage to hotels, at a charge of fifty cents for carriages and twenty-five cents for other vehicles. But at Sixteenth street this morning when I arrived on the Oregon Express, there was only one carriage, and that an undertaker's, which was there to meet friends of the late deceased, and was aptly suggestive of the sardonic expression that Oakland is a good place to die in.

"Of course there was no hotel bus, for Oakland, notwithstanding its boosters, has never progressed far enough yet to operate a hotel bus, nor has private enterprise ever inaugurated a transfer bus system. The only recourse was to take a street car. As I approached a Twelfth street car, the conductor was swinging the trolley

READING THE CONFESSION.

The confession of John Schneider, one of the boy bandits, was read before Judge Geary by Sheriff Barnett in East Oakland yesterday at the preliminary examination of the defendant, which is now in progress.

KEEMAUKE, Ia., Aug. 21.—It is reported from Gregory, Mo., eleven miles south of here, that a Greek laborer on railroad construction, has been quarantined, his case being pronounced yellow fever. He came from Natchez, Miss., a few days ago.

SWEETHEART RAN AWAY AT STEPS OF ALTAR

Miss Myra Victoria Recanted at the Eleventh Hour and Refused to Marry.

While James W. Flannigan of San Francisco was procuring a marriage license with which to link his life with Myra Victoria Hallett she suddenly got an attack of "recant" and gave her would-be husband the slip and took the train back to San Francisco.

Flannigan had his affidavit about half made out when he excused himself for a moment to see if his bride, who was waiting just outside the County Clerk's door, was still there. He was gone fifteen or twenty minutes, and came back saying that she was nowhere to be found, and believed that she had gone to San Francisco. He asked the clerk to mark his affidavit void.

Flannigan gave the age of Miss Hallett as 23.

Flannigan now believes that he will never see his promised bride again and that the ceremony will never take place.

ANOTHER CHAPTER IN A PATHETIC CASE

Infant Child of Miss Annie Anderson is Laid in the Grave.

There was a tragic ending Sunday of the dingy romance in the life of Miss Annie Anderson. When the babe she abandoned a few minutes after its birth beneath the house at 1273 Linden street, now occupied by Rev. Griffiths, was laid in its final resting place in Mount Zion cemetery.

The young mother was the only mourner that followed the baby to its grave. Six weeks ago the mother, a young domestic who had been employed at 1273 Linden street, gave birth to a child. She took the babe and crawled beneath the house, placed it in a tiny box, and then disappeared. For thirty-six hours during a night and a part of a day the child lay in its tiny box, which nearly became its coffin. The Rev. Griffiths moved into the house and was disturbed by the wall of the infant. The first search failed to reveal the place where the child was concealed and it was not until the police were called on that the babe, blue with cold and almost exhausted from starvation was found. It was taken to police headquarters where medical attention was given it. It was afterwards placed in the West Oakland Home, where it did well until within the last few days, when it was taken ill with an infantile complaint and died.

The mother, after being arrested, for abandonment of the child, was discharged and she said she thought the child was still-born.

COLLINS SLEEPS ON STRAW BE TRIED BY COURT

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 22.—"If they continue this kind of treatment they will have accomplished one of their purposes, at least, for I will go crazy." These words were used by George Collins yesterday morning when he arrived back at his hotel after spending the night at the provincial jail. Saturday evening his counsel endeavored to get an order from Attorney General Wilson to permit him to spend his nights at the Drift, but they were unsuccessful. It is understood that the defendant, who is charged with the murder of a woman, had no power to interfere with the mandate of the judge. On behalf of Collins it is shown that the order of Judge Lampman merely commits him to the custody of the superintendent of the provincial police, Superintendent Euseby. He sleeps on straw strewn on the floor of his prison cell.

COULD NOT HOLD SUSPECTED BOYS

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 22.—Ed and Arthur Van Horn, the two boys arrested here last Wednesday and held on suspicion, were released today, as the officers had nothing against them that would connect them with any crime. The report emanated from San Francisco that the two boys were the highwaymen who held up the Yosemite stage near Wawona last Tuesday, but this theory exploded today when Wells, Fargo & Co.'s detective, John Thacker, arrived from San Francisco, and after a brief examination of the prisoners declared he was satisfied they were not the men who committed the Yosemite robbery.

GAS PLANT IS PARTIALLY WRECKED

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 22.—The city gas plant at Syracuse, Neb., was partially demolished today by an explosion which also wrecked a part of the water works plant. Both plants are owned by the city.

The explosion was caused by a leak in the pipes.

J. C. Reid, a fireman, was probably fatally injured.

BENNETT CASE PRACTICALLY ENDED

NEW HAVEN, Aug. 22.—All litigation over the estate of Philip S. Bennett, of which William J. Bryan was executor, is believed to be ended by the filing of a notice in the probate court today to the effect that an appeal of Mrs. Bennett, the widow and heirs, to allow Mr. Bryan's accounts, will be withdrawn. The notice of appeal had been entered for hearing and today's action by the heirs was unexpected.

AUTO VICTIM IS LAID IN GRAVE

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 22.—Simple funeral services over the body of Vincent E. Walsh, who was killed in an automobile accident here last Saturday, were held today at the summer home of Thomas F. Walsh, father of the dead boy. The only persons present were close friends of the Walsh family. With the exception of Miss Evelyn Walsh, all the others who were injured in the accident, were doing well today.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The findings and opinion of the court of inquiry which investigated the fatal explosion on the gunboat Bennington were made public today by Secretary Bonaparte at the Navy Department. The court expressed the opinion that the explosion was caused by an excessive steam pressure in boiler "B," resulting from the closing of the valve connecting the boiler with the steam main. The court is also of the opinion that D. N. Holland, the fireman on duty, had made the mistake of shutting off the valve.

The court further finds that Ensign Charles D. Wade of the engineering department of the ship was at fault, failing to see that the steam valves and safety valve were overhauled at the proper time and kept in good order, having accepted the verbal statements of subordinates that this had been done in March. It is clear that he was negligent in the performance of his duty and should be brought before a court-martial. The court also found that the fireman on duty had made the mistake of shutting off the valve.

MRS. TAGGART WINS A POINT

WOOSTER, Ohio, Aug. 22.—When the Taggart divorce case opened today, Attorney Sterling, for the plaintiff, made an address to the court, in which he claimed that Mrs. Taggart was a non-resident of Ohio and has no right in court here except in answer to her husband's petition, and that she cannot, under the laws of Ohio, be granted a divorce, being here by right only to make a general denial of her husband's claim. Sterling said Mrs. Taggart's cross-petition is really no cross-petition, in that it does not state a cause of action, that no summons has ever been issued on the cross-petition and served on the defendant.

The whole matter is alleged to be based on Mrs. Taggart's answer when a witness in the rope case at the Mayor's Court the other night, in which she charged, rope with perjury, and whereupon being called as witness, she answered that she had lived in Chicago, San Francisco, and giving Wooster, Ohio, as her legal residence.

Judge Eason refused to dismiss the cross-petition.

PASTORS TO MARCH IN THE PARADE

SAN JOSE, Aug. 22.—The Pastors' Union today unanimously accepted an invitation of the Building Trades Council to march with the laboring men in their big parade on Labor Day.

OLD RESIDENT IS STRICKEN

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 22.—W. N. Bonham, one of the oldest residents and a pioneer rancher of Kern county, died suddenly at his home at Wasco last night from a stroke of apoplexy. The deceased was well known throughout the state.

MRS. BLAIR NOT A LEGATEE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—Judge Hebbard rendered a decision today affecting the Yarde-Buller estate in which he sustained the demand for the complaint in the suit of Edna Ursula Blair against W. H. Chapman, as trustee of the estate and Ralph Buller, the surviving son of Mary Katherine Blair Yarde-Buller, holding that Mrs. Blair has no claim on the estate.

WHAT IT COSTS TO SEE THE FAIR

Visitors at the fair and Clark Exposition in Portland this summer will be surprised to find how cheaply the big fair may be seen. The expenses of a trip depend largely, of course, upon the individual who makes the trip, but a schedule of the fixed expenses has been prepared which enables one to get a fairly accurate idea of the cost of seeing the exposition.

The visitor in Portland will find an abundance of suitable accommodations, and it may be said authoritatively that no one need pay in excess of $1 a night for clean, comfortable lodgings within the past few months temporary hotels and lodging-houses with a grand total of 2670 rooms have been erected near the main entrance to the grounds, while the American Inn, within the grounds, has 636 rooms. In addition to these accommodations, the Hill Military Academy and St. Helen's Hall will be available, while almost every house in the city is open to the visitor. In most cases accommodations may be found within easy walking distance of the grounds, and a 5-cent street car ride is available from the city. While the average price charged for lodging will be $1 per night per person, many rooms may be secured in temporary hotels near the grounds, for 75, 50 or even 25 cents.

Most people will find it more convenient to take breakfast at their lodging place or at a downtown restaurant than at the grounds. Twenty-five cents should pay for breakfast and 25 cents for luncheon within the grounds, while for the evening meal 50 cents may be considered a fair price, making the cost of three meals $1.

Admission to the grounds costs 50 cents and an allowance of a similar sum should be made for incidentals, which include admissions to several attractions within the amusement street.

The schedule of expenses per day for the average person of economy then is as follows:

Lodging, per day.....$1.00
Meals.....1.50
Incidentals......50
Total.....$3.00

This schedule is on the basis of a five-day stay at the fair. All who can possibly do so should spend at least ten days, however. For these the expense need not be quite so great per day, as it may be possible to get better accommodations the longer period should take advantage of the opportunity to view some wonderful scenery within a short distance of Portland. A 5-cent fare by street car takes one to Portland Heights, where a wonderful view of the city, the Willamette and Columbia rivers and the snow-capped mountains may be enjoyed. Other delightful but expensive trips include a visit to the city of Astoria and a ride on the Willamette river by boat. The cost of these trips may be deducted from the $3.00 budget allotted for the cost of the five-day trip. Figuring as above, then, the expense for a five-day and one day stay at the fair may be reckoned as follows:

Five-day visit:
Lodging.....$ 5.00
Meals.....7.50
Incidentals.....5.00
Total necessary expense.....$17.50

Ten-day visit:
Lodging.....$ 7.50
Meals.....11.25
Incidentals, including souvenirs, trail attractions, and car and boat rides.....2.50
Total necessary expense.....$21.25

NEW TELEPHONE COMPANY AFTER FRANCHISE

Petitions the Council to Give Them the Right to Operate Their System in Oakland.

The Home Telephone Company of Alameda county, which filed articles of incorporation with the County Clerk yesterday, last night applied to the City Council for a franchise to operate a system in this city. William Thomas, one of the incorporators made the application in person as the Secretary had not been ordered to be incorporated as a company. The new system will do away with telephone girls and all party lines.

Judge John G. North represented the new company. In addressing the Council he said:

LARGE CAPITAL.

"The Home Telephone Company of this county has a capital behind it of $3,000,000, and means to install one of the most complete telephone systems in this city in the world. We will begin work at once about the 'Home Telephone' is that it is automatic. There is no necessity for telephone girls or centrals. Each person tee to spend. We will probably spend a sum greater in excess of the figures I have given you.

"Whereas we have installed the system it has given perfect satisfaction. In many of the Eastern cities it is now operating with entire success. In Los Angeles and about forty towns in Southern California the system is in use. It has been found to be the best system in the world. Those who have tried the automatic telephone are most strong in its praises.

"We will give a bond of $100,000 to carry out any contract we assume. We will have a set of about twenty-five phones for its use without charging them a cent.

Councilman Elliot then asked if in telephoning is his own operator. There is a dial on the face of the telephone, which is operated like the dial on a safe. By turning it to the desired number you are put in communication with the person that you wish to speak telephoning is his own operator. There is a dial on the face of the telephone, which is operated like the dial on a safe. By turning it to the desired number you are put in communication with the person that you wish to speak to. There is no such thing as hearing "Line busy"—call again. Your communication is as secret as if you were whispering in the ear of your friend. There are no party lines or telephone girls to hear what you have to say.

"Now in event of your honorable body granting this franchise we will promise to go to work within the next if the money the company proposed to spend would be used in procuring local labor.

Judge North replied that as many local men would be hired as possible.

The application for a franchise was then referred to the Ordinance and Judiciary Committee in conjunction with the City Attorney.

MAYOR MOTT WANTS OIL

ON THE STREETS

Would Have Certain Sections of the City Oiled to Make Hard Roadways

The following communication from Mayor Mott relative to oiling all macadamized streets, was referred by the City Council last night to the Street Committee for a report:

'Oakland, Aug. 21, 1905. To the Honorable City Council of the City of Oakland. Gentlemen:—The oil of macadamized streets has been experimented in this State for some years and whenever properly done has proven a success. Many cities throughout California should be thus treated, which will effect a saving not only in the wear of the streets but also in the maintenance of sprinkling besides giving us better roadways.

The item of sprinkling alone is an important one and a saving could be effected of many thousands of dollars after the first year. It is estimated that the saving of sprinkling bills alone for the first year will pay the bills any given year and I am informed that after the first application, once in three years is sufficient.

That all the roads

"It has been demonstrated that where macadam is obtained as in California, has been properly applied to macadamised streets, the surface has become smooth and hard, thereby making it only a better road than that insuring a longer life to the same."

"In this city we have many miles of macadamized streets which, in my judgment, are a disgrace to the city," you're
"FRANK K. MOTT, Mayor."

NEW RULES FOR GARBAGE CORPORATION

An Amendment to the Ordinance is Passed by the City Council.

An amendment to the ordinance granting the Pacific Incinerating Company an holder. Before the ordinance was passed to representatives of the company agreed to terms. The amendment to the original ordinance was passed. The Board of Health may collect garbage. This will allow them to resume their work as they did before the ordinance was passed. The Board of Health will collect garbage under the supervision of the Board of Health.

[illegible]

MUST OWN CAN.

There is a new feature to the amendment that may cause a little trouble and that is that every family or residence must have its own garbage can. It was agreed by the Pacific Incinerating Company last night to sell all of its cans at contract will be carried out as long as we have a dollar left."

The compromise with the scavengers by the Incinerating Company was brought about principally through the efforts of Councilmen Hahn and Thurston; in conjunction with Mayor Mott. It is thought

75 cents a piece. The reason of the amendment making it incumbent on householders to own their own cans is that the ordinance provides that all receptacles for garbage must be air tight. The Incinerating Company has thousands of such cans at the present time. The by allowing the scavengers to resume operations all objections relative to the gathering of garbage will disappear."

An Abuse of Advertising.

The Eureka Standard lays down a good rule in regard to advertising, one that newspapers in general would do well to follow. It is the rule of this journal. This rule is that advertisers shall refrain from casting reflections, in their advertisements, on the goods or characters of their competitors in business. Here is the Standard's statement of its experience in enforcing its wholesome rule:

"The policy of the Standard has always been to protect its advertisers, whether large or small. The other day an advertiser called the attention of the daily papers of this city to the fact that a competitor was resorting to a practice that was clearly wrong. The practice consisted in trying to belittle the goods of his competitor. The standard thereupon called the attention of this advertiser to the complaint and was told that it was considered by the management of this paper to be a just one. He was requested to eliminate the offensive paragraph from his advertisement or else it could not be run in this paper. This he would not do, and in consequence his advertising was refused by the Standard. Since that time the advertiser in question has announced publicly that the Standard management refused to receive his advertising in any form. This is a deliberate falsehood, and was doubtless printed in the desire to secure some cheap advertising. The Standard's columns are open to all advertisers, but the management reserves the right to reject all objectionable matter. The man who says his advertising was refused can secure publicity in this paper so long as he confines his advertising to unobjectionable matter, notwithstanding the fact that he has seen fit to publicly falsify the facts in the case."

Advertisers should remember that publishers are civilly and criminally responsible for what appears in their columns, even in the form of paid advertising. And it would be manifestly unjust and bad policy to permit one patron to attack the goods or reputation of another patron in columns jointly utilized by both to advertise their wares. Attacking a competitor is poor business anyway, and a publisher who permits his columns to be made the vehicle of such attack takes a risk in encouraging an unwholesome practice. At the same time he deals unfairly by his patrons. The advertising columns of a newspaper should be devoted to making some want or commodity known, or to make public some fact which it is important for the advertiser or the people to know. They should under no circumstances be hired out as vents for abuse.

Reforms, like dreams, sometimes go by contraries. Wm. H. Belcher, the fugitive Mayor of Paterson, N. J., who stole $100,000 of the savings of the poor, was called "the model man" and was elected Mayor on a reform ticket!

Now that a State Forester has been appointed in pursuance of the act passed by the last Legislature it is to be hoped that the gentleman will devote his attention to preventing forest fires. If his chief qualification is an ability to swing primaries, it will probably turn out that the State has been saddled with the payment of another salary without affording protection to the forests.

The New School Enrollment

The school census of Oakland taken early in the summer showed an increase of only 62 children of scholastic age over the number returned by the previous census. We challenged the count and cited a number of facts going to show its incorrectness. The opinion then expressed by THE TRIBUNE is now confirmed by the increased enrollment for the second half of the term. The enrollment in the grammar and primary grades for the second half of 1904 was 8853; for the second half 1905 it is 9479—an increase of 626. This ought to very nearly represent the increase in the children of school age over last year. The attendance at the High and Polytechnic schools has fallen from 1246 to 1127, however, for reasons which are not clearly discernible. But allowing for this decrease in the preparatory departments, the enrollment still shows a net increase of 507 over the latter second half of last year. The increase in the school enrollment is a physical fact which the census cannot stand against. Even if the census marshal could not find them the children appear at the schools to receive instruction. It looks as if the taxpayers of the city would have to pay several thousand dollars this year for the support of the schools that should have come out of the State School Fund.

A German investigator says "Yankee Doodle" originally came from Germany. This would imply that we captured it from the Hessians.

"If Peary finds the North Pole what will he do with it?" asks a contemporary. Judging from the experience of other explorers he will need it for firewood.

The editor of the Nevada City Miner-Transcript calls the patois that frequently infests its columns "mountain French." The Sacramento Bee calls it "decadent French." To the average reader it is Chinook. If a newspaper has got anything to print that it is good for people to read it had better print it in a language they can understand. In the latitude of Nevada City quotations from French authors are about as intelligible to the general public as the handwriting on the wall was to Belshazzar. If they cannot be understood by the Miner-Transcript's readers why on earth are they printed? The editor of our contemporary is fairly intelligible in his Wabash dialect. He should stick to it.

Booker T. Washington denies that he escorted John Wamaker's daughter to dinner in a Saratoga hotel. Now let the bargain sale proceed.

The Los Angeles Express figures that a steel pipe five feet in diameter, 210 miles long, capable of conveying 5200 inches of water, will cost only $9,000,000. That would mean 1,108,800 feet of pipe at a cost of a little over $8 per linear foot. Nearly thirty miles of tunnels will have to be pierced to receive that pipe, to say nothing of the cost of break reservoirs and other expenses incident to laying a pipe of that dimension across 210 miles of desert and mountains. When it comes to laying the pipe the figures of the Express will probably undergo radical revision.

The Council is to be complimented on the unanimity with which the Mayor's veto of the bicycle ordinance was sustained. It is a proof that good counsel has prevailed. It is to be regretted that Councilman Elliot, who is usually clear-headed, should have held out to the last, and alone, for a proposition that is indefensible and flagrantly contrary to public policy. His reason for his stand is empirical and based on an assumption that has no foundation in fact. However the Mayor was sustained by a vote which assures the passage of an ordinance that will in reality protect the rights and persons of pedestrians on the sidewalks. It will be another progressive step for Oakland, and will remove a stigma from the town that has long been the subject of comment on the part of visitors. We hope to see Councilman Elliot fall into line like the sensible man he generally is.

Racial Increase at the South.

Census Bulletin No. 22, recently issued, gives the lie to the generally accepted theory that the blacks are multiplying much more rapidly in the South than the whites. Such was never the case, if the Census Bureau be correct, though it was strongly indicated by the census in 1890 and in a lesser degree by the census of 1880. In 1880 the birth rate for white women among the Southerners was the same as among black women, but the imperfect statistics at hand indicate that the death rate among whites was greater, prior to emancipation, than among negroes.

In 1900, for the first time in the history of the country, the census showed that the number of children born to each 1000 white women in the Southern States was greater than the number of children born to each 1000 colored women. The birth rate among the whites has decreased since 1860, but the birth rate among blacks has decreased more than double, or, to be exact, 160 for blacks to 75 for whites in each 1000 women.

Moreover, the death rate among negroes is much greater than among whites in the North as well as the South. Whether this is a permanent condition remains to be seen. The census of 1910 will elicit more definite information on that point. However, the white race at the South is being steadily recruited by immigration from the North and some immigration from Europe, while there is a steady, though not large, drift of blacks to the North. If the natural increase of the Southern whites is greater than the Southern blacks, it is a self-evident proposition that the fear of negro supremacy is baseless.

In 1900, roughly speaking, the races were about equal in the group of States comprising South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana. If the census of 1910 shows that the blacks are not holding their own numerically in those States it will be ominous for the future of the colored race in the United States.

The Fresno Sunday Mirror says the editor of the Republican must be a lady. Who has asserted to the contrary?

The adoption by the Board of Supervisors of Chairman Mitchell's resolution providing for a check system in ordering supplies in the several county offices was an excellent and timely move. Recent developments have demonstrated the necessity for a check system that will guard against mistakes and fraud. Such a system is required as much for the protection of the officials as for the county. It establishes a clear record by which the delivery of every article ordered is insured, and renders padding of bills or orders impossible. It would be a good idea to require all bills to be rendered in duplicate, so that one might be kept on file in the office ordering the goods while the other would go to the Board of Supervisors. Then the County Expert could tell by comparison whether the bill corresponded with the order and the duplicate on file. Much confusion and some scandal would have been averted had a check system been instituted earlier, but Supervisor Mitchell's resolution is none the less an excellent move in the interests of accuracy and economy.

HOW THE STATE FAIR AIDS AGRICULTURE.

Bart Cavanaugh managed to break in upon an executive session of the State Board of Agriculture yesterday. Incredible as it may appear, the Board gave him a hearing and he got what he wanted. Before his appearance in the Board room he got word to Director Burke and the latter stepped into the ante-room and held a subdued talk with him.

Cavanaugh wanted an appropriation from the Board on account of the Piute Indians who, he has caused to be announced, will give a whoop-up of some kind on the race track during Fair week. He said that he had sent George Vice, who, by the way, is an employee at the State Printing Office, into Nevada to arrange for the journey of the Piutes. The Board soberly listened to the talk and granted the money asked for.

Now it happens that Cavanaugh is a hop grower when he is not grafting. The Piutes regularly come down from Nevada to pick hops in this vicinity. They used to be permitted to swarm on the blind baggage and platforms and ride free, but in later years the ancient deadhead privilege was withdrawn. The railroad, however, carries exhibits for the Fair free and if it can be persuaded that the Piutes are coming as an exhibit the Indians may be accorded a free ride and the hop growers saved the expense of transportation. The State yesterday made an appropriation to feed the Indians, so hop picking in Sacramento ought not to cost much this year.—Sacramento Sunday News.

YARNS.

Mrs. James, wife of the president of the University of Illinois, is well known for her skill in yarning. On the occasion of a recent trip to Paris she and President James were dining in a hotel. A certain young French officer was speaking derisively of the falling of the German. Mrs. James was born in Germany and nothing stirs her blood more than to hear anything uttered against the fatherland. After a lively every charge made by the young officer, he finally cried out: "Where can you find in German history a Joan of Arc who led the armies of her country?" Mrs. James, in German, retorted: "We women do not have to fight, our men attend to that."

"What I like," said the deputy lieutenant to the young woman from the United States, "about you American girls is your independence. Now, you, for instance, have come over alone, ready to go anywhere, as one might say, and do anything. So different from our English girls, who one is always thinking are setting their caps."

"Do you ever think of matrimony?" "Think!" said the American girl, wrinkling her brows, calculating the deputy lieutenant's income, dividing it by his year, and subtracting the number of his children. "Think! I worry!"

A terrific clap of thunder, preceded by a flash of lightning, seemed to burst right over the hotel where the shah was quartered. The rain fell in sheets. The shah remained terror-stricken in his room, while a priest babbled prayers at every thunder clap.

CLEVER LITTLE STORIES.

A young Virginia woman, who was very ill, was approached by her colored servant, who said: "Miss May, my mothah dun had a cousin what had de same ailments what you 'un got." "Is that so, Cora?" replied the lady. "Yes, sum," responded Cora, encouraged, "but mah mothah's cousin she died, 'deed she did." "Well, Cora," said her mistress, angry that she should tell her such a tale at such an inopportune time, "if that's all you have to say to me you can leave the room and don't come in again. I don't want to hear such stories." Cora was thoroughly frightened at what she had done and wished to ameliorate her ill-chosen story, so she thought for a moment, and turning to go, said: "Well, Miss May, mah mothah told me she died mighty easy."

CHEFS SEEKING FAME ON THE MENU CARDS

NEW YORK, August 22.—The members of the different organizations of second chefs in this city are to appoint a committee to meet and take action on a matter which is causing them a great deal of annoyance. In a word, they want more advertising, and not unjustly complain that while they do all the work the head chefs and the matres d'hotel get all the credit with the public. Dishes are never named after the real cooks, they declare.

They want a little of the fame, and if their plans do not miscarry they are going to get it. As Monsieur Henri Geroux, just at present unemployed, said yesterday: "Mals out, m'sieur, ze chef he walk roun' and roun' de kitchen, an' twirl hees mustache, an' den he say, 'Call dat deesh 'Emince de veaux aux pommes deterre a la Paul,' an', by gar, Monsieur Paul he never even eat dat deesh, an' nobody neffair invent hit, bicaous hit ees nossing but plain veal 'ash, jus' veal 'ash, an' nossing else.

"Las' week I mek one grand confection, parfaitment. In my mind I see my name on ze menu, an' Marie, she will be so proud of me. Blen, vat happen? I go to ze maitre d'hotel, he taste ze cooking and smack hees lips loud. 'Gran,' he say to me; 'Gran.' We call dat deesh 'Civet a la Roosevelt.'"

"I say, 'Where dat Monsieur Roosevelt cook? Why, when I find ze most delicate way to cook ze little pussy cat, you gif ze honour to zat Monsieur Roosevelt? Neva'r! An' dat is de rason m'sieur, zat I am at ze present moment not employ."

Hans Guckman, a well-known second chef in this city, had the same view of the situation.

"De time is here," he said, with much earnestness, "ven us second cooks is goin' ter get a little bit ov der vame, ain't it? Ef I get de frondia for some noo soup, un I make it, vat for should Louee get de credit? Und an- noder t'ing, vat's de use ov der boss gittin' noo dishes named after him; no- body cares for der boss alretty yet. Vat las it ve read about credit bein' dere fer der feller fer vat it pelongs, ain't it? Credit should go by der feller fer vat der credit is alretty yet. Aain't it? Sure it iss."

On the other hand the maitres d'hotel, the head waiters and even the proprietors, have other views on the subject. Oscar, at the Waldorf-Astoria, summed up the matter last night:

"It was all well enough in the old days, when eating was as great an art as cooking to perpetuate the name of some great chef by naming some dish for him. A soup named for Juliette, the chef, will always bear his name, and so will his peculiar method of cooking potatoes, although in this country we are fast coming to call them "shoe string potatoes," instead of Juliette.

"But the day is past when people have time to dine. They merely eat. Nowadays we just swallow our food and give no thought to the chef, except, of course, in some few cases. 'The tendency in this country is to name certain dishes peculiar to that hotel after either the hotel, the proprietor, or the head waiter.

"There is ample reason for giving a popular dish the name of the hotel or the proprietor; it stamps it at once, and if the chef goes away the meth- od of serving this particular dish does not go with him, but remains as an asset of the hotel.

"For instance, there is the file of sole Monquin' of the well known down town restaurant, and Oysters Finel, after the Philadelphia caterer, and Waldorf salad. These things are all served in hotels other than those in which they first made their success, but they retain those in which they first made their success, but they retain their names.

"The second cooks and the chefs, too, are getting all the fame they need. The using of the names of the proprietors is much wiser, and a good busi- ness move; that's all there is to it."

SELECTING PLANTS FOR OUTSIDE WINDOW BOXES

Everywhere in nature there are societies of plants that grow and thrive together. In selecting the plants for the window box, great care should be exercised not only to select those that will best harmonize in color and present the best artistic appearance, but to select those that will best grow together under the conditions. A collection that will do well in a north window, and vice versa writes an authority on horticulture in Good House- keeping. For success do not crowd too many plants into the box and do not expect the box to present its best appearance when first filled; give some room for growth and development.

There are two methods of filling; one where all the tall plants are placed at the back of the box and the low ones in front; the other where tall plants are in the center and plants or vines either side. The latter gives the most lasting effect, since when the box is turned about the light is more evenly divided among the different plants. The box should have several one-inch holes in the bottom for drainage and a zinc pan should be placed under it. It should be raised from the pan enough to prevent its sitting in water. In the absence of a pan a tight box can be used, but will require great care in watering.

In the fall, when the flowering plants are killed, they can be pulled up and some hardy evergreens planted, as spruce, hemlock, juniper or cedar. In this way the box will look attractive the entire year. In the spring take out the old soil and put in new. Plants for outside boxes in spring, February to May, are violets, pansies, Bellis, forget-me-nots and bulbs. The latter should be planted in the fall.

It is obvious with plants grown in pots or boxes where the roots are necessarily more or less cramped, that the soil must be rich in available food and in sustaining power. The mixtures that I shall give will give sat- isfactory results and are more easily obtained than mixtures often given. Persons having a large variety of materials at their command usually have a gardener competent to mix the soil to suit the needs of the individual plants.

For common plants such as geraniums, coleus, fuchsias, etc., mix one part of soil, one part of well rotted manure (cow manure if obtainable); spread this on the potting bench (a shutter placed on two horses, or an old table serves the purpose). To a bushel of this mixture apply one quart of bone meal and four quarts of gritty sand, if obtainable; mix thoroughly with the spade and then with the hands until it contains a large amount of air. A sprinkling of airslaked lime and a pint of tobacco dust will help to rid all objectionable insects. Have the soil moist (neither wet nor dry) and mix it until there are no lumps. Allow this soil to remain over night or for several days and mix again when ready to put the plants into it.

WALTZ AND TWO STEP STILL IN THE LEAD

Dancing teachers here as well as elsewhere in the country who want to be considered up to date have got their instructions from the National As- sociation of Dancing Masters of America about the proper dances for next fall and winter, and, of course, will obey them.

The waltz and two-step are still the favorites. While the waltz is in the lead of all others the two-step is too popular to be tabooed, and the mas- ters who decided against it in the past years have now formally withdrawn their edict. The members of the association, however, have their hearts set on the waltz as the only dance of art.

Only one new dance has been recommended. It is chiefly adapted for children, and as it is presumed its popularity will end there, it has not been officially approved. In certain localities notice has been taken of certain dances of a local flavor, and they have not been frowned down. One of these is a one-step, a combination of the waltz and promenade. Others that can be mentioned are the three-step and the five-step. The square dances long in use still have a strong hold on the public, and will continue to meet the approval of the dancing masters.—The Argonaut.

ACTOR SEVENTY YEARS OLD.
Lionel Brough, in honor of whose jubilee as an actor was given a matinee at His Majesty's theater, London, the other day, made his first bow nearly seventy years ago. Before turning actor he was employed in the publishing office of the Daily Tele- graph.

DUKE IS FEARLESS.
The Duke of Abruzzi is fearless. He has been shot over a hedge while motoring; he has listened while the ice- pack cracked his ship's ribs in at Prince Rudolph Island and escaped with frost-bitten fingers; he has sur- vived the world from his balloon and attained points on the Alps before un- explored.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY

BRIDES STILL CENTER OF INTEREST

NUMBER OF WEDDING DATES FOR COMING MONTH.

A group of fair brides and brides- to-be are the center of interest this week and besides the immediate dates announced for weddings in September there are a number who have not yet made known the definite date of com- ing happy events.

The marriage of Miss Edith Gaskill and Roy McCabe yesterday afternoon at the Gaskill home on Fifteenth street, was an affair marked by charming simplicity, but of interest to a large number of friends. Tomor- row there will be the marriage of Miss Charlotte Lally and Arthur Kelley, at the St. Francis Hotel, and after a hon- eymoon this popular young couple will make their home in Oakland.

Dividing interest with the Lally- Kelley wedding tomorrow will be that of Miss Josephine de Guigne and Vicomte Philippe de Tristan. Only the most intimate friends will be present at this quiet San Mateo wedding. The honeymoon will be spent in France, the country where this roman- ce had its beginning.

The date for the marriage of Miss Edna Tretheway and J. Eisenbach of San Francisco has been set for Satur- day, September 16, at the home of the bride's parents in East Oakland. The matron of honor will be Mrs. W. J. MacDonald, sister of the bride, and the trio of bridesmaids will include Miss Mattie Robinson, Miss Katherine Rea and Miss Alice Smyth. Little Miss Marian Wolfe is to be the flower girl, and the ring-bearer, Master Donald Livingston MacDonald.

About 150 invitations have been sent out for the elaborate reception.

FOR BRIDE-ELECT.
Miss Ada Kenna, whose marriage to Murray Orlick will be one of the in- teresting events of September, is the honored guest at one of the pleasant luncheons of the week, planned by Miss Edith Downing of San Francisco.

HAVE RETURNED.
Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Lukens have re- turned after a long and delightful stay in the East and in Europe.

Miss Eleanor Joseph has returned from Portland, where she has been making a brief sojourn on her way from Europe, where she has been studying singing for over three years. She will spend a short time with Mrs. Todd in this city before making her home in San Francisco.

STAG DINNER.
Arthur Kelley was honored guest at a stag dinner given last evening at the Poodle Dog restaurant, across the bay. The company included Mr. Kel- ley's prospective groomsmen, W. W. Foote, George Sessions, William Creed, Phillip Fry and Emery Farnum.

GUEST OF HONOR.
Mrs. Beatrice Priest-Fine was the motif for a delightful musicale recent- ly given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Campbell in San Francisco. The evening was devoted to music, and among those who contributed to the program were Mrs. Fine, Harvey Worthington Loomis and Edwin Star Belknap and several others.

QUIET WEDDING.
The marriage of Hermann C. Sage- horn, of this city, and Miss Ida Pur- lenky will be quietly solemnized to- morrow evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Puriensky, at 814 Fell street, San Fran- cisco.

The wedding will be a very quiet af- fair, owing to the recent death of the groom's mother.

Mr. Sagehorn and his bride will make their home at 1278 Alice street, in this city.

IN THE NORTH.
Mr. and Mrs. John P. Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anderson returned yesterday from a delightful trip to the North, including a visit to the Port- land Exposition.

TELEPHONE TEA.
Mrs. Henry Wadsworth was hostess recently at an informal telephone tea given for her daughter, Mrs. H. Tur- ner, of Baltimore, who is spending the summer here.

FAREWELL CONCERT.
Tomorrow evening at Reed Hall the talented young pianist, Eugene Blanch- ard will give his farewell concert, and musicians and society people about the bay are interested in the event.

Mr. Blanchard will be assisted by Mrs. Olive Reed Cushman, contralto; Rufus Smith and William King as ac- companyists.

The patronesses include Mrs. Oscar Luning, Mrs. W. N. Kleiman, Mrs. George E. Perkins, Mrs. Henry Wet- herbee, Mrs. John F. Connors, Mrs.

MRS. OLIVE REED CUSHMAN who will assist tomorrow evening at the Blanchard Concert.

Charles Egbert, Mrs. Fred Stolz, Mrs. George Cope, Mrs. Joseph Matthews, Mrs. James G. Allen, Mrs. W. W. Standeford, Mrs. E. Remillard, Mrs. T. B. Coghill, Mrs. E. D. Yorker, Mrs. F. J. Kendall, Mrs. Thomas Mein, Mrs. E. B. Sanborn.

The following program is an- nounced:

I.
Prelude and Fugue, C minor....Bach
Sonata op. 53.....Beethoven
(Allegro con brio, Adagio molto, Alle- gretto moderato)
Mr. Blanchard.

II.
(a) All Soul's Day....Richard Strauss

Rhapsodie Hongroise, no. 12.....Liszt
Mr. Blanchard

SECRET WEDDING.
The marriage of Miss Genevieve A. Peladeau and John J. Brennan of Emeryville, which was solemnized November 9, 1903, has just been made public. The fact that the young peo- ple were cousins was the reason of ob- jections by their relatives three years ago, but the couple secured a dispen- sation from the Pope and were quietly married three years ago by the Rev. Father Heulin in St. Patrick's Church, San Francisco.

PERSONALS.
Mr. and Mrs. Mark Requa are at the Palace Hotel for a few days and leave shortly for an Eastern trip.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Britton and Miss Alice Britton leave shortly for an extended Eastern trip. They will spend some time at Chicago, going la- ter to New York, and will be away for several months.

Miss Daisy Cook, Miss Lillian Cook, Miss Katherine Sullivan and Miss Lu- cile Kuhl have returned from a two weeks' stay at Shasta.

Mrs. Edmund Baker (nee Kitt- redge) is at Los Gatos at the Kitt- redge country home.

Mrs. John Valentine, with her fam- ily, and Miss Ethel Valentine are com- fortably settled at Cloyne court, Berkeley, where they will remain for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Rawlings, who have been spending the summer months in Mill Valley, as the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Warner, will remain in San Francisco for a few months be- fore going to Mexico.

Miss Florence French has returned to her home in East Oakland, after several weeks' stay near Los Gatos.

Joseph Wohlfrom and his daughter, Miss Katherine, are spending two weeks' vacation at Paso Robles Springs.

Miss Gertrude Gould has returned from a pleasant Northern trip, includ- ing Alaska and the Exposition.

T. H. Rahjohn has returned after an enjoyable stay with Thad Welsh, the artist, in Marin county.

NEW HATPINS WITH NOVEL DESIGNS.
Oriental designs in hatpins are popu- lar. Some of the tops, fashioned like Egyptian fans, are made of waving plumes. These are in light pink, yel- low and green bone-like composition, with feathers finely chiseled.

Of this same material are exquisitely tinted butterflies, swallows, blue- birds, etc., which look very pretty amid the flowers of the summer hat.

A serpent's head made of dull silver is new this year. In the serpent's mouth, which is wide open, a round burnt orange crystal ball is held as if it had been forced between the jaws.

Two owls' heads set on a heart- shaped piece of dull metal are deco- rated or rather outlined with rhine- stones.

A flat-shaped Indian head showing the chief with his war paint and feathers on either side of the gilded white metal top is used often as one of a set of three, showing types of men of different races.

The other two pins used with this one show a Turk's head with turban and long hair and the head of a Malay with rings in his ears and a small one in his nose. Both of these are of white metal gilded.

Colored pearl hatpins are very popu- lar for afternoon use. They come in such a large variety of shades that they can be purchased to match almost any light-colored gown or hat.

Some effective-looking pins that are fetching when worn in black lace hats are made in the shape of small liz- ards outlined with sparkling rhine- stones or miniature doves with out- spread wings—the rhinestones set all over the wings, head and body.

What women like about these nov- elty hatpins quite as much as the old tops are the long thin pins and sharp points that can be run through the largest kind of a hat crown, as well as through heavy hair and out on the opposite side of the crown, with an inch or two to spare.

DIVORCE HANGS ON HER HAIR

NEW YORK, August 22.—Justice Greenbaum, in the Supreme Court yesterday, declined to confirm the report of a referee in the divorce case of Mary E. Spearing against Joseph Spearing, because the balance of evidence showed that the co-respondent was at one and the same time a glittering blond and a ravishing brunette.

The Justice admitted that it was beyond his legal comprehension. The hearing of the referee had been in secret. One witness had told of the per- oxide quality of the tresses of the one co-respondent mentioned in the case, and a second witness, with equal positiveness, had declared that her hair was dark.

Justice Greenbaum, in postponing action on the papers, gave Mrs. Spearing an opportunity to present more evidence bearing on the color of the hair of the young lady in the case.

INTERESTING ITEMS CONCERNING WOMEN

Would you like to hear your sister, only a year or so older, entertain callers by dilating on the fact that you are growing so fast that your wrist bones show below your coat sleeve and your ankles protrude beyond your trousers, and "mother only bought him that suit a few weeks ago?"

Would you like odd pieces of half-worn furniture stuffed into your room, for lack of an attic or cellar, and then see your treasured collection of birds' eggs or stamps swept away as "just trash?"

Would you like to be torn from the baseball columns of the evening pa- per to run a household errand neglected by the sister who was busily en- gaged in making a new stock or girdle—and with the added reflection that "boys" never get tired, anyhow?

Would you like your boyish friendships held up to scorn by a girl who cannot appreciate that Sam is the crack wrestler in your class, or that Bill has been our loyal champion in a schoolroom fracas?

Would you feel kindly toward a sister who asked you to escort her to a dance, and then went flirting away with other young men, forgetting your very existence and trusting your introductions and entertainment to strangers?

Would you like your fondness for dime novels held up to ridicule by a girl who has passed "The Duchess" stage and is now a devotee of "Ouida?"

Would you like to have your pretty cousin informed in your presence that you have learned to shave, and have acquired a best girl since she visited you last?

Would you like to hear the good and bad points of the same girl, who perhaps for the moment embodies all your ideals of young womanhood, dis- cussed in a most flippant, perhaps malicious way?

Would you feel any less conscious and uncomfortable at your first din- ner party if your sister watched you anxiously and signaled table manners to you frantically?

When you had a few friends for tea would you not feel proud of a sister who looked her prettiest and made herself most agreeable, instead of shyly poking fun at the awkward young lads?

Just step into your brother's shoes for a few hours and find out!—Ex- change.

SAYS SHE WAS HYPNOTIZED

INDIANAPOLIS, August 22.—Modestly admitting that she is "gifted," but denying that she is in any sense of the word a fortune teller, "Mad- ame" Smith, a negress, who lives in Pine street, above Thirteenth, was held for court by Magistrate Boyle yesterday on the charge of obtaining money fraudulently from Anna Patterson, a negress, a maid in an Overbrook Ave- nue household.

Anna had been disappointed in love. She said that one day "Madame" Smith, accosted her in a drug store, told her she knew Anna was in trouble, and ordered her to follow. The girl said that she was hypnotized and obeyed the command without a word.

"How much money have you got?" asked the "madame."

Anna had $3, and the woman had no difficulty in getting $2.50 of that for a potion which she said would bring back her lover. That was only a preliminary, and the rest of the formula cost Anna about $82, according to her story. Of that amount she borrowed $20 from her mistress, and the rest she drew out of the bank, for the girl had a little nest-egg laid away for a rainy day.

Chinese incense was burning in "Madame" Smith's house when a police- man went to arrest her. She was quite outspoken and contemptuous in her opinion of the negro race.

"That's what I get for dealing with persons of my own color," she said with a sniff. "They are so ignorant."

In default of bail, she was remanded to prison.

WOMEN'S HEALTH AND BEAUTY

No one should allow a baby under one year to have anything but his bottle food and boiled water, well cooled, to drink.

There are many aromatic compounds that add invigorating powers to the ordinary bath and leave haunting sweetness behind them.

Ointments should always be kept in a cool place, for if the hard be- comes rancid serious irritation may result in the case of skin disease for which they are prescribed.

There is a saying that "every time a sheep bleats it loses a mouthful of hay." Every time a woman worries she loses a little of her attractive- ness and takes on marks of age.

Cloths wet with alcohol and water or laudanum and water and laid on a hot water bottle will relieve neuralgia when the painful part is steamed over the bottle covered with the cloth.

Over sixty tons of sweets were shipped by one New York house to our soldiers in the Philippines, Cuba and Porto Rico. When the body is in ex- ercise sugar will not produce obesity. Only the sedentary man grows too fat from sugars and starches.

The habit of nail-biting may be cured. Cut away the palm of a kid glove, leaving the fingers intact. Cut the back to a point at the wrist end. To this fasten tapes and tie the wrist. After some days the glove may be left off and the plan be tried on the other hand.

Both sea salt and camphor, combined or used separately, act as tonics for the skin and should be used freely. The salt, to be bought at any drug- gist's, may either be thrown into the bath or be rubbed dry on the body while the latter is still wet. In this case the body may be rinsed again if one dislikes the feeling of salt.

For tender eyes make an infusion of one handful of cornflowers in a pint of hot water. Let it stand one hour. Strain and use either tepid or cold.

Phosphates, so essential for brain, nerve and bone, may be had from the whole wheat (wheat cereals, shredded wheat, etc.), milk, apples, fish, etc. For the building of muscles eat eggs, beef, mutton, peas, beans, lentils, whole wheat bread, etc. The blood-building foods are those rich in iron.

Camphor may be used either by dropping enough of the tincture into the bath to make an aroma or by combining it with cologne at the rate of twice as much cologne as tincture of camphor. Add a few drops of tincture of benzoin.

When the skin of the body is not attending to its share of the work, and it cannot when its pores are clogged, the face has to do double duty in throw- ing off effete matter; therefore, when there is more than it can dispose of, facial blemishes result.

The lack of fresh air in a sleeping room is responsible for many of the morning bad feelings. The unpleasant taste in the mouth, the uncomfortable feeling about the head, the languor of the whole body, are often the result of poorly ventilated sleeping rooms.

In both Japan and Russia blind masseurs are very numerous. Massage is a work for which the blind are specially fitted. Their delicacy of touch is marvelous. The occupation should be carefully considered by the pa- rents or friends of blind children.

prize will be a gold medal. In all about ten prizes will be offered, a list of which will be published later.
Play is expected to commence September 4. The committee in charge, composed of Dr. A. W. Merrill, L. G. Parker, H. L. Orbell and A. Duncan, will have a meeting Monday evening at 8 o'clock.
The prizes of the summer tournament will be distributed at the Syndicate Alley Monday evening, August 28, at which time the alleys will donate $5 for the person making the best two consecutive games at ten pins between 6 p. m. and closing time. This will be open to all who have participated in the tournament last closing.
The Syndicate will bowl their closing game tonight against a picked team.

LITTLE TROUBLE LEARNING HOW TO SWIM CORRECTLY

Why are so many boys, girls, men and women unable to swim when it is one of the easiest of all sports to learn and one of the most enjoyable once mastered?

Hundreds of people who bathe in the surf cannot swim, thousands who go out in rowboats, yachts and launches would sink like a rock were their boats to be overturned. Hundreds of people are drowned every year because of their inability to protect themselves in the water, when a few hours taken from the years of wasted time which had gone before would have supplied them with the means of saving their own lives and those of unfortunates unable to swim.

Thrown into the water, human beings become victims of fear. They lose absolute control of their limbs, when under the same circumstances almost any dumb brute would make use of them.

No person in ordinary health need to drown if he will move his arms lustily and kick out resolutely. Anybody can do it. Of course, there are certain strokes which make swimming effective, and experience teaches one how to save breath and protect the heart action, but keeping on the surface, even for a long time, depends upon nothing but effort. To learn to swim is a duty to others as well as to one's self. It is not expected that all will become expert swimmers, but a slow and comparatively weak person can keep afloat a long time by alternating methods, if exhausted, by treading water, and the body will not sink if the person thrown into it uses the ability of which he is capable.

The simplest form of swimming is that called "dog fashion" by the boys. It consists in using the hands and arms as the dog does his paws, either striking the hands flat on the surface and bringing them downward below the breast, or keeping them going like paddles just beneath the face and chest, in other words "pawing" the water. The feet should slap the surface of the water behind alternate strokes. By this mode the swimmer makes a great splash, but he cannot possibly sink and while he will not make much progress straight ahead, he can keep up with the least effort until help arrives. Any person, even with the clothes on, can swim in this manner for ten or fifteen minutes without any sense of weariness, and always long enough for assistance to come under ordinary circumstances, or long enough to reach some support.

"Dog fashion" is the first lesson in swimming, as it gives experience in floating the body and is a great help in the mastery of fear. It also has the additional advantage of keeping the head well out of the water.

If new to the use of the arms and hands as described in "dog fashion" the swimmer draws the legs close up to the body and kicks straight backward in the manner the frog does in swimming or jumping. He will force himself quite rapidly through the water toward some floating object or toward the shore. The best course is to make the kicks at a moderate rate to avoid exhaustion. The use of the legs in this manner is the proper one for the breast stroke. When one has acquired ability to move in the water and has gained some confidence, the "pawing" may be abandoned for the more effective side stroke. Carry the hands well forward, nearly joined, and bring them around toward the sides like oars. This, with the kicking of the feet, constitutes breast stroke swimming or that where the person lies breast downward in the water. A little practice will enable one to make it, and the length of the swim is then a matter of endurance. When rightly performed the combined stroke of arms and legs should carry the swimmer about one length ahead.

The breast stroke may be reversed, the swimmer lying upon his back. In this case the strokes are similar. Resort may be had to swimming on the back for rest and relief from heavy breathing. If the swim is a long one, floating on one's back is the best method. The back, extending the feet at full length and lying still. The body will lie low in the water, giving barely opportunity to breathe, but will not sink.

After the breast and side strokes, practice is the only essential thing to make a good swimmer. Movement through the water soon becomes easy and without weariness. Then comes the swimming stroke for a long swim with the change in strokes for rest and experience in all the changed conditions of being long submerged in the water. When all this is attained there is no more exciting sport than swimming.

For short races the new Australian crawl stroke, both arms over, is proving very popular.

BURNS WILL ASK BARRY TO GIVE MORE WEIGHT

Tommy Burns may ask Dave Barry the privilege of coming in a couple of pounds over weight as he is having some trouble to make 155 pounds. Some months ago Burns could do 154 easily, but since he came to California he has taken on the weight, and now he is having some trouble to make 155 pounds. Barry is a middleweight, takes off a pound or two it works right back again.

"San Rafael is an ideal place to train," remarked Burns last evening, and it is not hard to do weight in this climate, but I cannot account for my unusual weight the past two weeks. It seems to me that I am putting it on instead of taking it off, but I guess when I start to dry out I'll get some of it off all right. I wonder Barry would help me by taking my weight off, but I am sure he would rather let me stay in the weight I am in now.

Both Burns and Barry have a weight forfeit of $500 posted and if either is a fraction of a pound over the weight agreed upon and mentioned in the articles—155 at 3 o'clock, he will necessarily have to forfeit to his lighter opponent. In the event of both being overweight the fight will be a draw. There is little chance for the fighting Irishman to lose his weight money as he weighs over 160 pounds of the notch now and the contest is also days off.

Great crowds are visiting the training quarters of both men with a view to seeing a line of the future champion when battling becomes brisk. Both have created a good impression with their fight, and the crowd is looking forward to the betting would be about even money.

Joe Angell has taken up training quarters at the Berkeley Merchants, and is in good shape for his ten-round contest with Fred Landers. The latter is training with Joe Thomas at Vallejo and he top is reported to be in excellent trim.

Angell and Barry are to box at catch weights which gives Joe a shade the better of it in the matter of height.

AUTOS WILL CLIMB THE PEAK

KANSAS CITY, August 22.—Automobiles will climb Pike's peak in September. An expedition has been arranged in connection with a delegation from St. Louis and the trip promises to be one of interest. Charles J. P. Lucas of St. Louis has been chosen to accompany the Kansas Cityans. The local autoists who will make the trip are H. W. Loose, W. P. M. Stevens, E. P. Moriarty and H. W. Strall.

"This will be the second ascent of Pike's Peak in motor cars," said Mr. Lucas. "The St. Louis contingent will come to Kansas City with twenty members. The party will leave here September 9, following four days in the mountains across the country to Colorado. According to the program the ascent will begin September 13 and two days will be allowed.

RYAN FLASHES BIG BANK ROLL.

CINCINNATI, August 22.—John J. Ryan, Cincinnati's plunger and turfman, is back from Saratoga with $100,000 in winnings gleaned from Canfield and Eastern race tracks.

The plunger made his appearance on Vine street, and in response to his friendly queries as to his success in the East, Ryan produced and exhibited a pressure of his fingers expanded into one hundred $1,000 bills. Crisp new bank notes, with yellow backs, were in the roll which Ryan carried as pocket money.

Of the little altercation with the stewards at the Saratoga track over the winning of Athlone, by which Ryan hit the books for $80,000, the plunger had little to say. Ryan brought his diamonds back, and about sixteen carats of the stones, which he had taken to the bank, he made in a blue serge suit and light Fedora hat.

DUFFEY WILL RACE NO MORE

NEW YORK, August 22.—Arthur Duffey, the champion sprinter of the world, who has just returned from a victorious tour of the world, announced that he was through with the older path.

"I am through with running," he said. "I am going home. Why am I going out of it when I am still good? Because I am tired of the game. I would rather leave now at the close of more victories than wait for defeat. But the main reason is that I want to go into business."

"YANK" KENNY IN NEW YORK JAIL.

NEW YORK, August 22.—A man giving his name as Yank Kenny, formerly a well-known pugilist, was arrested last night in Brooklyn, charged with stealing a purse containing $340. The man who lost his wallet identified one found on the prisoner, but said he could not positively identify Kenny as the thief. The pugilist was locked up for the night.

POST FORFEIT BET

Willie Britt, representing the champion, and Manager Nolan, for Nelson, have each posted $2500 forfeit for their side bet of $10,000 with Harry Corbett. Two receipts were given identical in wording, with the exception of the name of the person from whom the money was received, and further that Britt's receipt reads, "that Britt defeats Nelson," while Nolan reads "that Nelson defeats Britt."

August 21, 1905.
Received from Willie Britt $2500, being a forfeit in a bet of $10,000 that Britt defeats Nelson in a contest to take place on September 9, the balance of $7500 to be posted the day before the contest. Money to be paid on decision of the referee.
HARRY CORBETT.

Britt and Nelson will meet in a twenty-foot ring when they square off at Colma under the September 9th. This is the ring in which Young Corbett and McGovern met in Mechanics' Pavilion, and many important battles have been fought within its encompassing ropes. The regulation twenty-foot ring of the Queensberry rules is seldom insisted upon these days, especially by the little fellows. There is plenty of elbow room in a twenty-foot ring if one man wants to make a runaway fight, while if they both want to stand up and mix matters, the feet square would provide ample room for their efforts.

The ground upon which the arena will stand was plowed up yesterday, and scrapers will be put to work today leveling the spot. It is expected that the fight will be completed before the last day of this month.

TAYLOR TIRES OF RACING GAME.

NEW YORK, August 22.—"Malah" Taylor, the negro bicyclist, is at the game for all time, according to his own statement. His retirement is not of the usual order. As will be recalled, he signed a contract last spring with Beyer & Coquette, the French promoters, to ride a specified number of races in Europe this season against any riders the Parisian managers saw fit to pit him. When Taylor learned that Champion Kraemer was also going abroad there was a hitch at once. Taylor was taken ill, presented a doctor's certificate and asked to be excused. The French Cycling Association had the negro suspended, and asked the National Cycling Association to do the same. This was done last week. Now it appears that a certain promoter is anxious to have Taylor's suspension removed. The French promoters say they are willing to withdraw the charges against the negro if he will send them a check for $10,000, which is about one-fifth of the amount they claim they lost by Taylor's breach of contract. Taylor says he will not send the money, and adds that he is through with bicycle racing forever.

INTEREST IN FUTURE RACES

NEW YORK, August 22.—The two contests between Sweet Marie and Tiverton, with honors, equally divided, and the challenge issued by A. B. Gwathmey of this city to race his gelding against the mare for a purse of $10,000, makes the future contests of the two champion trotters doubly interesting to trotting horsemen.

Tiverton won a decisive victory over the mare at Philadelphia, but lost the Revolver race by a small margin in the second heat, which practically meant defeat for him at the finish of that heat. This was another evidence of the view taken by many of Tiverton's admirers, that if the race is prolonged to over two, or the most, three heats, he is no match for the stout daughter of McKinney. Mr. Gwathmey is thoroughly safe in issuing the challenge for a best two-in-three race, as Sweet Marie has to show a much better performance than that of Revolver in order to discourage the backers of the New York trotter.

Perhaps never before in the history of harness racing were there two other trotters out during the same season which were as equally matched in every respect as these two. They have already started the season by lowering world's trotting records, and the chances are that, barring accidents, both will add more laurels to their list.

The pair now stand as about equal footing as holders of world's records. Sweet Marie has won the world's fastest heat in a race, by a mare, in 2:04 1/4. Tiverton has the same honor as a gelding, with a record of 2:04 1/4. The former has won the fastest third heat trotted in a race, in 2:05, the latter has the same honor for a second heat in 2:04 1/4.

They hold in partnership the record for the fastest three and five heat races—the first at Readville last week in 2:05 1/4, 2:04 1/4, and the second was made at the Transylvania Stake of last year, at Lexington, in 2:05 1/4, 2:04 1/4, 2:05, 2:04 1/4, 2:05.

AUTO RIDING ON THE BOULEVARD

DON C. MCCORD.

Don C. McCord Holds the Record for the Run to San Jose.

The Haywards Boulevard was crowded with automobiles last Sunday, more than one hundred machines being seen on the road between Fruitvale and Niles. The road is in perfect condition, so that the machines can make all kinds of speed.

Don C. McCord, a prominent young auto enthusiast, who runs the "Caldwell," now holds the record for the best time between Oakland and San Jose. He has made the run several times to get the record, and is now known as one of the fastest men on the road. It may be said of Mr. McCord, however, that he never takes any chances. He always has his machine under perfect control, and has never had an accident since he has been in the business.

Automobileing is now one of the most popular sports in the county. The Haywards Boulevard at the present time is, in excellent condition.

AMATEURS ARE AFTER MORE GAMES AT DEL MONTE

The Berkeley Merchants took another game at Idora Park, Sunday, when they beat the crack Mayflower nine of San Francisco by a score of 7 to 3. There will be a return game September 2. The game yesterday was umpired by S. Connolly and the teams were composed of the following players:

Berkeley Merchants—C. Hampton, C. Connolly, J. Buchenry, J. Whitman, C. Bush, G. Stable, H. Whitman, W. Rowe.

Mayflowers—P. Moon, J. Raymond, M. Dillon, G. Sorensen, F. Gorman, R. Eganwood, J. Callahan, D. Kindall, T. Elliott.

The Martinez Brothers of Berkeley met and defeated the Old Leaguers in a close and exciting game of eleven innings, by a score of 3 to 2. The features of the game were the batting of Blodgett, Patterson and Conger, and the fielding of T. Fitzsimmons, who made two sensational catches of line drives.

The line-up of the Old Leaguers was as follows: Blodgett, catcher; O'Connell, pitcher; Whalen, first base; Fitzsimmons, second base; Conger, third base; Patterson, center field; Kitchem, right field. All challenges should be addressed to Manager L. G. O'Connell, 137 1/2 Fifth avenue, East Oakland.

The Casserly team has re-organized and would like to arrange a game with any fast amateur team about the bay. The Casserlys have played four games this season, winning them all. They have defeated the M. J. O'Garas, the Smiths, the Owls, and the Occidents. The team is much stronger with its new line-up. The Casserlys have an open date for next Sunday and would like to get a game for that day. Address challenges to Charles Gibson, 920 Sixth avenue, East Oakland.

TO SWIM FOR EASTERN HONORS.

NEW YORK, August 22.—Under the auspices of the New Athletic Club the Amateur Athletic Union swimming championships will be held at Travers Island, Saturday and Monday, September 2 and 4. There is much interest in the Eastern amateur championships this season and a large field of entries is expected. Arrangements for the care of a large crowd will be made, and a record-breaking attendance is looked for.

The championship events will be interspersed throughout the program, with handicaps and novice races. Eight events, all told, will be decided in the two days program. The 220-yard swim and the diving competition will be the championship events down for decision Saturday, and there will be in addition a 100-yard novice and a 100-yard handicap event. On Monday the one mile and 100-yard A. A. U. championships will be decided, and a 50-yard novice and a 50-yard handicap swim will fill out the program. Entries will close with Charles Burnham on August 26.

On Friday of this week two tracks will be in operation in the United States and Canada—Latonia and Port Erie. It will require tracks to declare off back to come across a similar state of affairs in the good racing month of August.

St. Louisans are complaining that they find two baseball teams that can't play ball poor substitutes for the sport they had at Delmar and Union Parks.

Some idea of the swiftness of the fact that the champion Purdy candidate, Timmer, recently bought by Harry Payne Whitney, worked the distance in 1:13 1/4, a record for dogs produced in the high class. Jerry Wernberg did it in 1:22 1/4 and that was considered satisfactory.

Artful has not run many races this year, but it is on the cards that she may be seen in public frequently in the course of the coming meeting at Sheepshead Bay. She is entered in the Fall Handicap, Ocean Handicap, Reapers Stakes, Ocean Handicap, September Stakes, Stakes, Ocean Handicap and Annual Champion Stakes.

The crack Western two-year-old Henry Waterson is well engaged at Sheepshead Bay, being nominated to the Partridge Stakes, Dash Stakes, Flatbush Stakes, Rock Stakes, Reapers Stakes, Eastern Handicap. In one or the other of these events he will be pitted against the best of his age, but it is expected that Henry will come out victorious.

Henry Robinson, the negro accused of burning a barn at J. B. Higgins' Elmdorf Farm, was given a preliminary hearing at Kingston, Sunday, before the Grand Jury and was sent to jail in default of bail.

To be once eligible to the $25,000 Annual Champion is to be always eligible. To this feature it is due that the names of Commando, Dan Patch, Rockton, Zoroaster, the first named dead and the others in honorable retirement, together with the names of such famous commentators as Amberjack, Bryndale, Chrystie, Copper, Day, Fonceata, Harlan, John, and others, are on the list of horses eligible to start on the payment of the starting fee of $100.

In his first Saratoga start Sir Huon confirmed the good impression made by his running at the Kentucky Derby. He had defeated Falesto has left at least one worthy representative to keep his memory green for a while longer. Sir Huon has staked himself at Saratoga, but is in the Partridge Stakes, Dash Stakes and Golden Rod Stakes at Sheepshead Bay. His stable mate, Eliza, has one stake engagement at the same track, being in the Autumn Maiden Stakes, to be run Sunday, August 28.

Mohawk II is not heavily engaged in the stakes at Sheepshead Bay, being confined to but three, the Futurity, Flatbush and Waldorf. For the Futurity he has incurred the extreme penalty and under the circumstances he would have to carry 150 pounds, but he is entitled to a three-pound breeding allowance, which would reduce his weight to 147 pounds. For the Flatbush his weight is 115 pounds, which will be raised to 120

AUTOMOBILE ENTHUSIASTS WILL HOLD CONVENTION

Barney Oldfield is going on the stage in the winter. He will race his "Green Dragon" on a roller machine against the shadow of Earl Kiser thrown by a biograph machine. This is not apt to make Barney's "shadow" very popular, especially of his bank roll. It is a perilous business, though. Athlete-actors are usually classed as hasbeens.

With William Wallace and the car of A. G. Vanderbilt, keeping company with the "shadow" of Earl Kiser, is an Italian team, American has a fair look-in for the Vanderbilt cup so far as keeping it here is concerned.

A national convention of the American Automobile Association is to be held in Madison Square Garden, New York, on January 10, 1906. The purpose of the show there. Members of the A. A. A. who travel to New York, to attend the convention, will be favored with a special reduced rate. This will enable the A. A. A. members everywhere to attend the show and show more cheaply. It is officially declared, however, that the reduced rate will be granted to members only and that it will not be possible to get it by proxy. The convention is the last moment. Secretary Batchelder reports that the campaign for individual members is progressing at a gratifying pace and is now being experienced abroad.

WESTERN MEN TAKE SOME PURSES

Some of these days the good Eastern race-going public will wake up to the fact that there are horses that go on from the West able to win races there and then there won't be such juicy odds about the winner from this section.

With Lorrette M. Wiren, Pat Bulger, not to mention Bragg, who ought to have won, being around the money, as they were at Saratoga, in one day there ought to be a little recognition for the untamed steed from the back country. While Pat Duane, original stable boy trainer, was absent from Saratoga, there were matters of that kind around that were able to pick up a purse on occasions, and it's mighty seldom that there's not a good price and they are not down right. Usually when the horses go East there is much talk of improvement class, and so forth, and the big Eastern stables are expected to take down everything in sight.

But along comes Mr. Westerner and he takes something more than his share of purses. There have been years, too, when he got away with a real good stake. Some of the hush folks are unkind enough to talk of the right prescription and matters of that nature, but there would seem to be a reason outside of this for their success. Your Westerner learns his racing book in a pretty hard, rough school. It has to be a good horse man and a real good one, too, to beat his fellow trainer in the West.

So when he goes on to the Spa it is a good bet that he knows a lot about his own horses. All there is to know, in fact, and after that he is wise to the business of placing his horses, which is half the battle. No one begrudges the Westerner his little opportunity, and his relatively important bit of success, but it's funny how they go on that gather at Saratoga and Sheepshead with the unclassified.

Constitution, the fruitful source of many other complaints is cured up by taking Lash's Kidney and Liver Bitters.

If he wins the Futurity, The Waldorf, has no penalties or allowances.

Commenting upon the conditions which make it impracticable for stewards at the New York tracks to declare off back to grant time for the making of a new book under such circumstances as compelled the recent occurrence of last October, a race at Saratoga, an Eastern exchange says: "The only way to remedy it is to do missionary work in sending the clerks to the correct view of the turf that the present widespread opposition may be minimized and that may be accomplished by a national fund, with a president owning and each owning a share in the omnipresent ticker and growler, and the hood-head toer, did such good work in solving the dark side of the turf as good that every race they lost was crooked, and that every turfman had to be mean with a corkscrew for a new bit of clothes."

Frank Clark, superintendent of the Coney Island Jockey Club course at Sheepshead Bay, made a tour of the infield at Saratoga with F. Alexander and Thomas Hitchcock. He was especially pleased with two of the jumps on the backstretch, which have been built without the aid of a bulldozer, and the take off side. They are banks topped with brush, and the horses, both in the races and when seen in the paddocks, seem to like the obstacles built in the old way. Thus far there has not been a blunder at either of these jumps, and it is expected that these jumps will be copied on the course at Sheepshead Bay. They are still enough to suit all who propose to go to regulation in height, yet seem much safer than those built of timber.

Jockey Callahan, who is believed to have sustained probably mortal injury, was the boy who rode formerly on the flat track Jockey and Sunday. He won some eight or ten races in the colors of the last named gentleman at Aqueduct last year. He is only twenty years old and increasing weight stopped the career in the saddle. One of the most prominent of his day. This unique conditions of the other day's steeplechase, a distinct innovation, by the way, which provided allowance of five pounds to jockeys that had never ridden a winner (meaning in a jumping race) was responsible for Callahan's presence.

Artful went six furlongs the other morning, and Jockey Club's race at Horse Haven in 1:15. It was pronounced record work by the trainers present, and while considered unproven, it was merely from a time standpoint. It was the supreme ease in which it was accomplished that the wily old trainer, who had won the race, was so sure of himself. One of the most eminent men in the profession, declared, "He could have won the race in 1:14. Nothing like he has ever appeared on the American turf, within my recollection. I saw Hermie as three-year-old, and he was the fastest move I had ever witnessed up to that time. He was a real winner. Charley Hughes and handed him every cent in my pocket—$500—to bind the bargain. $1,000 being the price. Mr. Wilson was disinclined to make the purchase, but the $500 forfeit was secured, and he was sold to the three fold by L. V. Bell, who acquired Hermie that same night on the recommendation of a friend. He was a real winner. His subsequent career of the champion is well known."

Expert statistics show that the American motor car is steadily encroaching upon the European market. They have been asked for the development of the gasoline runabout and the electric vehicle on the other side and the bulk of the motor car business has been done in these types. It is a significant fact to consider that one concern, shipped sixty electric cars to Paris during July. The number of outgoing runabouts is several times as large and gradually the American touring car is taking hold of the foreign automobile market. The time for electric cars is extending most rapidly in Europe, however, as it is here. Nowhere in Europe has the battery problem been studied so zealously and with such great results as it has here. The development of the electric carriage from a town runabout to the great truck with forty-four Exide cells capable of hauling five tons of merchandise is a fact of the present development. Something of a boom in electric pleasure carriages of American make is now being experienced abroad.

NEWS OF THE DAY FROM THE SUBURBS

POSTMASTER HONORED
BY DEKOVEN CLUB

George Schmidt Given Unique Distinction at Hands of Prominent Berkeley Organization.

BERKELEY, August 22.—An honor that Postmaster George Schmidt thoroughly appreciates is that of election to honorary membership in the De Koven Musical Club, an honor which is shared by only two other men, these being Judge H. A. Melvin of Oakland and J. A. Schuch of the University.

The De Koven Club met last night at the residence of Mr. Schmidt at the corner of Cedar and Henry streets and reorganized for the ensuing year. The club elected Mr. Schmidt an honorary member of the organization. Besides the collection that was enjoyed a musical program was rendered. Those who supplied the entertainment were Archie Moore, violin; Ed Flagg, mandolin; and Gus Volmer, guitar. Besides these numbers several selections were given by the De Koven Club.

With the meeting last night the musical organization finished two years of its existence. The club was started in 1903, composed partially of college boys and partially of town people. The De Koven Club has had a most successful career. Its concerts have always been well attended and thoroughly appreciated. Last year several concerts were given in San Francisco, one in the Greek Theater and many in private houses. The organization contains about twenty-four members. This year it is the intention of the club to enlarge the scope of its work. Concerts will be given in all the bay cities and several trips of some length will be taken throughout the State.

TO FIX
BIG "C."

Sophomores Will Do the Work Tomorrow.

BERKELEY, August 22.—Owing to the small number of sophomores who turned out for work on the big "C" Saturday morning it was decided to postpone the repairs upon the latter until after the class meeting, which will be held Wednesday afternoon at 6 o'clock. The cement and other material for the repairs are on the ground and there will be but little difficulty in doing the work, provided a sufficient number of men turn out for it.

BITS OF CHAT
FROM BERKELEY

BERKELEY, August 22.—Joseph Weill has gone to Tulare to look after the fruit crop on his ranch.

Ralph Noble, a graduate of the University with the class of '04, who took graduate work here last term, has returned to his home in Ontario.

Professor E. H. Twight of the University of California was elected secretary-treasurer of the California Viticultural club Saturday at Napa.

F. E. Armstrong and V. J. Mortimer have returned from a hunting and fishing trip in Monterey county. They report limit bags of both game and fish.

R. Sprague has been visiting in Berkeley for some time and will leave in a few days for Hawaii, where he has accepted a position as teacher in the Honolulu High School.

Mrs. Drake of Hilsen returned to her home this morning from Berkeley, where she has been spending a pleasant week with relatives, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Dunning, on Carlton street. The time was spent in sight-seeing and in various pleasant ways.

SCHOOL FOR DEAF
AND BLIND OPENED

BERKELEY, August 22.—The California Institution for the Deaf and the Blind will open for the fall term tomorrow, when all candidates for admission should be present for examination. The school is part of the common school system of the State and is free to all deaf or blind children whose parents or guardians are bona fide residents of the State, who are of sound mind and body, of suitable age for instruction and who are free from offensive or contagious disease and from vicious habits. All applications for admission should be addressed to Warring Wilkinson, principal, Berkeley, Cal.

NEW INSTRUCTOR
AT UNIVERSITY

BERKELEY, August 22.—O. C. Merrill, who was recently appointed instructor in civil engineering, has arrived in Berkeley from Belle Fourche, S. D., where he was engaged in the topographical work of the United States Geological Survey.

Mr. Merrill is a graduate of Bates College, Me., and also of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He will assist in the instruction of the classes in surveying and mapping.

Mother's FriendEDITOR GIVES ADVICE AGAINST TO "FRESHIES" SALOONS

LEWIS DAN BONNETT.

Man Who Has Been Through the Mill at University Prints
Good Editorial.

BERKELEY, August 22.—The freshmen class just coming into the University is conceded to have had some glib advice given to its members by such past masters in the art as President Benjamin Ide Wheeler and other college authorities, but Editor Bonnett of the Daily Californian is believed to have summarized pretty nearly all that freshmen need know in an editorial printed today in the Californian.

Bonnett is making his short, pithy editorials a feature of the Californian, demonstrating that he can hit a nail on the head with conspicuous regularity. His advice to freshmen is as follows:

COLLEGE LIFE MEANS WORK.

"Doubtless many of the intrants who will register today have preconceived ideas of what constitutes a real college student and have their own college careers carefully planned. Others have no idea of University life and will form their opinions and make their plans during their first year in college.

"It is hard to tell which of these classes is in the worse position. Ideas obtained from newspaper accounts of college life are very apt to be erroneous, as are newspapers naturally note unusual occurrences and the more striking results of the conditions that constitute the real college life. The man who gets his idea of college as a freshman is also apt to make the mistake of looking only upon the more picturesque side of life, and failing to realize that the real college man is the product of much hard work.

"In order to avoid these mistakes freshmen, and others, should continually bear in mind two things. First, the University is a small part of the world, a college preparation is a small part of the preparation for the world's work. The man who looks upon any phase of college work, or college life as an end in itself, may be prominent as a University student, but he will lack preparation for the work that comes later and will soon be forgotten. Second, student activities are broadening and should be participated in by all who can possibly spare time, but the real work of every college student should be in the lecture hall and study room. The University is maintained at great expense to supply educational facilities to us. We are sent here to make good use of these facilities. If we fail in this, we fail in our main duty and can be justified by no excuse.

ATHLETES YOUTH IS GIVE BALL ARRESTED

Fruitvale Club Charged With Being Drunk and Unruly.

FRUITVALE, August 22.—The Fruitvale Athletic Club gave its first entertainment and dance Saturday evening at Blackman Hall on East Fourteenth street.

The affair proved to be very successful. A large number of persons from San Francisco and many from Alameda attended.

The hall was handsomely decorated by W. Stevens, A. Jacobson and F. Zeph.

The entertainment began at 8:45 o'clock and dancing commenced at 9:50. The program was as follows: Song by the Fruitvale sextet, consisting of J. Rosen, P. Peterson, E. Jackson, H. Pepper, A. Denison, and B. Pullen; guitar solo, Prof. J. Moore; recitation, H. A. Morley; song, Eppinger and Gammell; boxing bout, ten rounds, A. Denison and C. Henrickson; comic selection, Scott Howitt; song, Miss Ethel Bayliss; recitation, Mrs. H. E. West; selection, Fruitvale Mandolin Club; solo, Constable Tom Carroll; song, Fruitvale Sextet.

The floor committee was composed of P. H. Blake Jr., R. C. Kimball, and A. C. Jacobson. Following composed the refreshment committee: F. Spies, W. Stevens and F. Zeph.

A birthday party in honor of Miss Leola Doney was given Saturday evening at the beautiful Doney home, at 1308 Merrill avenue.

The evening was devoted to dancing and playing games.

Those present were: Miss Leola Doney, Miss O. Telly, Miss E. Lorentzen, Miss A. Smedman, Miss N. Anderson, Miss A. Anderson, Miss L. S. Northrup, Miss A. Kelly, J. Rosen, A. Everett, B. Telly, N. Wolfe, T. Wolfe and C. Archer.

Henry Harmon has gone to his ranch in Mendocino county for his health. He will be gone about six weeks.

F. Spies was badly bruised in a bicycle accident Saturday evening while riding on the San Leandro road.

MINE OWNER DEAD.

ANACONDA, August 22.—J. C. Savery, owner of the famous Cable mine and well known in Iowa banking circles and on Wall street, New York, is dead at his residence at Cable of heart disease. He was 52 years old.

Ministers Put Out
Petitions For Special Election

BERKELEY, August 22.—A determined opposition to the saloon has grown with the development of the town of Berkeley. In the minds of many has been a sentiment that no saloon be allowed in the town. There is now an agitation toward inserting a clause to that effect in the proposed new charter.

The ministers of the town have had the matter under advisement. For some time past they have been discussing the problem and the best plan of action. At a recent meeting it was decided to call upon the citizens for a statement of opinion, in which every voter may declare whether he is for "saloon" or "no saloon." It is the sentiment of the ministers that the Board of Town Trustees have shown a most commendable desire to carry out the town affairs for the best interests of the majority concerned. It is believed that they are willing to do what the majority wish to be governed by their constituents.

It is proposed that the entire voting population unite in asking the Trustees to declare a special election, either at the time of the bond election or some other time when they shall see fit in the near future. The question proposed will be simply "saloon" or "no saloon."

This request is in the form of a petition which will be circulated for one week and presented as soon as possible to the Trustees. Petitions may be found as follows: Gazette office, Center street; Sadler's, Center street; Sadler's branch, Telegraph avenue; Schaeffer's, North Berkeley; Hasselway, Telegraph avenue and Dwight way; Irwin's, South Berkeley; Miller's, Ashby and Shattuck avenues; Bosworth's, Ashby avenue.

WILL GIVE A FETE

Haywards Women Plan Outdoor Affair.

HAYWARDS, August 22.—The ladies of the Trinity Episcopal Church here are planning for a pleasant outdoor affair, which is to take place early next month. Mrs. William Angus of Castro Valley has invited the Women's Guild to give a lawn party at her handsome home on September 2. The proceeds will be used in the parish work of the church.

Refreshment stands will be erected on the green, and they will be presided over by the young women of the congregation. The members of the society have several unique specialties in preparation for the fete and have every reason to anticipate a success. In previous affairs of this kind the Guild has been always successful.

ELECTRIC PLANT IS A GREAT SUCCESS

Shows Saving to the City of $13,165.
15—Mother Finds Babe in the Bay—Painter Insane.

ALAMEDA, August 22.—At the regular session of the Board of City Trustees last night the annual report of the municipal electric light plant was presented. Chairman Forderer of the Light Committee, took occasion to remark that during the past year the receipts from private consumers had increased over 50 per cent. The total expenditures for the year amounted to $34,675.25, including construction and operation, with an item of $7,000 to cover depreciation.

The earnings amounted to $47,538.40, showing a balance on the right side of the ledger of $12,863.15, which is a net increase over the previous year of $10,000. In the year there were 356 meters connected and 141 meters disconnected, showing a gain of 215 consumers. On June 30, 1905, there were 784 consumers of light furnished by the municipality.

Regular bills amounting to $1,124.60 and special claims totaling $172 were ordered paid. Superintendent Kahn of the Light Department stated that the old light tower at the corner of Third street and Pacific avenue had been taken down, and the work of removing the other towers, which have outlived their usefulness, would be prosecuted without delay. It was reported that the new large engine at the works was proving satisfactory, but that the new generator was not yet developing the capacity guaranteed.

Fire Chief Fred K. Krauth was granted his usual annual vacation, and is to leave in September to attend the convention of fire chiefs at Portland, Oregon. Janitor Ward of the City Hall is also to take his annual vacation next month.

City Trustee William M. Bowers remarked that the application filed by A. Frank for a liquor license at the corner of Encinal and Park street had been withdrawn. A strong petition had been presented against the granting of the license by residents of the vicinity.

WARNS SALOONMEN.

In this connection Trustee Bowers who is chairman of the License Committee, took occasion to sound a warning to saloan men. He said that it is alleged, have been violating ordinances in selling liquor to minors.

"I think the Police Department should exercise closer supervision over saloons," said Bowers. "Certain matters have come to my ears, and I am sure which have surprised me, and if the offenses are repeated some licenses may be revoked."

There was some further discussion as to the intention of the Oakland tracks on the Webster street roadway, and City Engineer W. R. Poyser, on motion of Bowers, was instructed to prepare diagrams showing what the condition of the thoroughfare would be with the rails in the center or on the west side, which is now the improved portion. The matter will be considered at the next committee session, and the Transit Company will be called upon to say its tracks in the center of the roadway raising them to the proper grade and putting the road in good condition.

A resolution of intention was introduced for a sewer in Stanford street between Buena Vista and Clement av-

PAINTER INSANE.

ALAMEDA, August 22.—Joel Swanson, a painter in the employ of E. G. Nylander, head painter at the Palace and Grand Hotels across the bay, went violently insane last night at the home of the latter, Ninth street and Pacific avenue, where he had been boarding for a few weeks. The women of the household were terrified when they found that Swanson, who had been acting strangely for a week past, had become a raving maniac.

He tore at the furniture, screamed at the top of his voice and threatened in his delirium to do the inmates bodily harm. After a struggle with the man Nylander managed to lock him in a room, when he notified the police at 11 p. m.

Police Officer Lawrence had a wild tussle with the crazy man when he went to the house to take him into custody. When the door of the sleeping room was opened by the officer, Swanson leaped from the bed, dragging the bed clothes with him, and proceeded to do a war dance. He was subdued with great difficulty, and fought the policeman all the way up to the City Prison, where it required three patrolmen to place him in a cell.

After being locked up the maniac danced and sang, and his ravings alarmed residents for blocks around. Dr. L. S. Sildman, the Health Officer, was called into administer an opiate to the unfortunate man.

Swanson is 23 years of age, and unmarried. The Nylanders stated that he had not been drinking, but had suddenly gone raving crazy.

SEVERE SHOCKS IN MIDDLE WEST

THREE STATES ARE VISITED BY EARTHQUAKE THAT DESTROYS PROPERTY.

CHICAGO, August 22.—Illinois was shaken by an earthquake shortly after 11 o'clock last night, the most severe in recent years.

The shock in the southern part of the State, especially in the region surrounding East St. Louis, was severe enough to rattle dishes and furniture, cause dogs to bark as if in alarm and children to awaken and cry. Houses creaked, and in many instances their occupants rushed out in terror, fearing that the straining beams and joists would give way.

As far north as Springfield the shock was distinctly felt.

Farther north it grew less perceptible, until in the region of Chicago it was not noticed, although it is expected that the delicate instruments placed in the office of the Weather Bureau will, when examined, show that a seismic disturbance was recorded. The office was closed last night before the shock came and the instruments could not be consulted.

Not only Illinois, but parts of Kentucky and Indiana were shaken. Messages from the different towns in those States say that three distinct shocks in quick succession were felt. The waves of the earth motion seemed to be from east to west.

ARRESTED BY ORDER OF CZAR

Former Chicago Professor in Custody at St. Petersburg.

CHICAGO, August 22.—The Record-Herald today says: Prof. Paul Milyouk, who was arrested at his old home near St. Petersburg yesterday in a raid by the Czar's police, was connected with the University of Chicago until last March, when he returned to his native land to aid the propaganda of Russian liberty. The agitation of the league and confederation of professional reform organizations was the work with which Prof. Milyouk was most closely identified in the last few months, and dispatches from St. Petersburg last night said it was while the central committee of these organizations was in session that he was in session that the police descended. The immediate cause leading to the raid was an article from his pen violently assailing the new duma project. At the University of Chicago Prof. Milyouk was looked upon as one of the most brilliant members of the faculty. He is an eminent scholar in several lines, though he confined himself here most particularly to lecturing on Russian social conditions.

SANG FOR PARTY IN '56

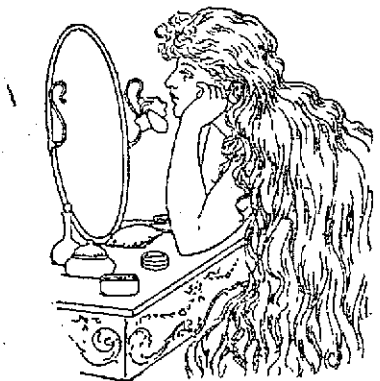

JOSEPH W. MATHER, FORMER CALIFORNIAN, IS DEAD IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, August 22.—Joseph W. Mather, who was the oldest member of a famous quartet that sang at Republican meetings during the memorable Fremont and Dayton campaigns of 1856, died yesterday at Darien, Conn., in the house where he was born 82 years ago. He was a graduate of the University of California and was well known on the Pacific Coast, where he was engaged in business for many years. Mr. Mather retired in 1897.

DESPERATE. "It is this you," argued the modiste, but the summer person shrugged her shoulders wearily. "It fits me," she said, dryly, "but it doesn't fit the exigencies. I am thirty years old. My time is short. My bathing suit should correspond. Do you understand?" The modiste bowed, and went for her shears.—Puck

STORM PLAYS HAVOC

Life and Property Lost in Wind and Rain.

ST. PAUL, Minn., August 22.—Devastation, terrible and complete, was wrought on all sides of the Twin Cities by the storm of Sunday night, according to reports just received here. From all the region from Anoka to Willmar counties come stories of disaster and loss of life and property. Members of families are missing, and it is believed they are buried under the debris which was strewn broadcast by the wind. Many instances of maiming are reported and the total loss of life will not be known for some days. Crops which had been cut and were ready for threshing suffered in many places, and standing corn was damaged by hail and wind. Hailstones several inches in circumference worked havoc with the crops in some sections.

Large sections of railroad tracks were swept away south of here, and the mail trains on certain portions of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road were run yesterday on improvised tracks, making slow time on account of the enforced insecurity of the roadbed. Washouts were numerous, both along the railroads and in the highways, the rainfall being enormous.

In some of the farming localities the grain was stripped from the stalks, even in the shocks, by the furious wind and rain, and haystacks were demolished. Huge trees which have successfully withstood the storms of years were uprooted and hurled before the wind, and barns and other outbuildings were destroyed. The damage done to buildings and crops in the southern counties will reach many thousands of dollars, but no accurate estimate can be formed until complete reports are received. All sections report that the storm was cyclonic in its nature, and from some points reports tell of a funnel-shaped cloud that descended with the most intense fury, leaving destruction in its path.

PREPARING FOR ENCAMPMENT

GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC WILL ASSEMBLE AT DENVER.

DENVER, Colo., August 22.—With the near approach of the date of the thirty-ninth national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic—September 4th—the local committees announce that they have a thoroughly systematized plan perfected for handling the thousands of visitors who will come to Denver. They declare that the coming encampment will break all previous records for attendance, and some estimate the probable number of visitors at 100,000. All the churches in the downtown district, school buildings, halls and vacant storehouses have been engaged as meeting places and headquarters, and a canvass of the city has resulted in pledges of all available rooms in private residences for quartering the guests. This, in addition to the many hotels and rooming houses, insures accommodations for all. A new feature in encampments has been inaugurated by the Denver general committee, all visiting bands, drum corps, etc., that place their services at the disposal of the committee will have their quarters and meals provided free of charge. The committee insists, however, that ample notice of intent be given, and that in notifying Grand Army headquarters here of their prospective visit to the encampment, musical organizations state the number of pieces, time of arrival, etc.

WILL TRY TO END RATE WAR

RAILROAD MAGNATES TO CONFERENCE REGARDING TRANSPORTATION OF GRAIN.

CHICAGO, August 22.—A meeting will be held in this city today for the purpose of trying to effect some sort of a settlement of the crop season war on the threshold of the crop season, which promises to break all records in the West. But the Chicago Great Western claims that no satisfactory and lasting peace agreement can be reached unless all lines unite in abolishing elevator allowances. The other roads already have declined to abate this allowance.

JAPAN SHOULD INSIST

Papers of the Little Brown Men Urge Envoys Not to Compromise.

TOKIO, August 22.—The Jiji, in commenting upon the proceedings at the Portsmouth Peace Conference, today says: "The cession of the Sakhalin Island, and the reimbursement of the cost of the war, are the vital points of our demands, and leave no room for any compromise. The moderation and reasonableness of these demands will be admitted, even by France. Should the attempt to promote peace fail, the responsibility will rest with Russia, not with Japan. If the Russians refuse to accept the proposed terms, it will be advisable for our delegates to withdraw, and tell them that the next meeting will be in Tokio." The Asahi says: "The war has won a constitution for the Russian people. It declares that Japan is fighting the Russian Government, and does not entertain any ill feeling toward the oppressed subjects of the Russian Emperor. It expresses the belief that all true Russians must hold some appreciation for what Japan has accomplished for them."

ANARCHISTS ARE WARNED

POLICE INSIST THAT THEY SHALL NOT INDULGE IN RIOTOUS TALK.

NEW YORK, August 22.—A meeting of avowed anarchists was held last night to discuss the ukase of Emperor Nicholas. The police were scattered through the crowd and guarded the doors to prevent persons from entering after the seats had all been occupied.

Speeches of the most incendiary type were delivered from the beginning of the meeting.

Emperor Nicholas was subjected to torrents of abusive language, and threats also were made that the United States will soon undergo an anarchistic revolution.

A police sergeant commanding the detail in the hall quickly stopped the tirade by sending word to the managers that if further riotous talk were indulged in arrests would be made.

ENGLISH CHILDREN LOSING EYESIGHT, SAYS PHYSICIAN.

"There is little use in trying to make marksman if he ruin the eyes of the nation in childhood."

This statement was made by Sir James Orlin-Lowe, an eminent London physician.

"In two generations half the people will be blind and the other half wearing spectacles, unless something is done to check the injury to the eyes of the children," he declared.

Professor H. R. Kewwood, M. D., declares that on the important question of the care of the eyes of the children are in complete ignorance.

They work under bad light that injures even good eyes, he declared, and are kept at work with eyes that badly need expert attention. Hundreds of them are even made partially blind from want of more common sense and a little elementary knowledge of the matter.—New York American.

THEY NEVER FAIL

THAT IS WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT THEM IN OAKLAND, AND IT IS, THEREFORE, RELIABLE.

Another proof, some more evidence, Oakland testimony, to swell the long list of advocates who endorse the old Quaker remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this convincing endorsement of the claims made for that remarkable preparation:

J. J. Lawrence, miner, of 160 Seventh street, says: "Lameness and pain around a mine's back totally prevents a man from performing work, and even when the backache is not so pronounced as to prevent working it certainly is an aggravating annoyance. When in Ecuador, South America, I first noticed that in some way my kidneys were not performing their functions properly and aching around the loins ensued. Since then other attacks have occurred and I was suffering from one when I noticed Doan's Kidney Pills advertised in our Oakland papers and procured a box. If the first had not helped me, I never would have bought a second, and I never would have continued the treatment. You can say for me that Doan's Kidney Pills can be depended upon to do exactly as stated."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McClellan Co., Buffalo, N.Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

MANY FEATURES PLANNED

WILL GREENBAUM WILL HANDLE MANY FEATURES ACROSS THE BAY.

Will Greenbaum, who furnishes California with most of the high class concerts and platform attractions, and who has been associated with the late Alfred Bouvier and with Charles W. Sirrine in the local management of the Grand and Concord opera companies, announces a most attractive list of entertainments for the coming season.

The first of the great singers to appear will be Mrs. Emma Eames, who has never been heard in concert in this city, and only during one season of opera. This great artist has surrounded herself with the finest concert company that has ever appeared here. Each of the artists would be a strong attraction alone. Herr Josef Holmann, one of the greatest living violinists, will be heard in solos and play some obligatos. Mr. Emil Gorgeza, the baritone, is an artist of the highest rank, and Mr. Amherst-Webster, the pianist and accompanist, is the composer of the opera "Fiorella," which was recently produced with great success in London. Mme. Emma Eames will give two concerts, assisted by a splendid company; Mme. Gadsby will give some song recitals; Miss Muriel Foster, the leading concert contralto before the public, will also give recitals and Miss Alice Nielsen, whom San Francisco claims as her own by right of discovery, will give some operatic concerts with members of the Henry Russell Italian Opera Company from the Waldorf Theatre, London, assisting. It is also probable that Aloys Burgstaller of "Parsifal" fame will appear in concert for a special engagement.

In the way of pianists, we are promised Harold Bauer, Alfred Reisenauer, and Raoul Pugno. Edward Baxter Perry, the blind pianist, will give two of his interesting "Lecture-Recitals," which will be something entirely new to our music lovers and students.

The violinists will be represented by Hugo Heerman, considered by many critics to be the greatest interpreter of the classics of violin literature, and whose repertoire will include the great concertos of Brahms, Joachim and Richard Strauss, besides other works never heard in this city; Mr. Emil Heerman, his son, will be associated with him, and together these artists will play compositions which are rarely heard in public anywhere, for it is not often that a manager can offer two great violin virtuosos in a joint program. Later in the season, Henri Marteau, the brilliant French violinist, will appear, and there is a strong probability of Kubelik coming.

Another fine attraction will be the Watkins-Mills Quartet of London. While we have had several visits from string quartets, this will be the first appearance in this city of one of the world's famous vocal quartets, and the program will be most interesting, including such works as Liza Lehmann's setting of Robert Louis Stevenson's "Children's Verses," in a cycle called "The Daisy Chain," the same composer's setting of the Rubynat under the title of "In a Persian Garden," and other great works for a quartet of mixed voices. All the members of the organization are soloists of the highest rank, and will be heard in favorite solo parts. Mr. Edward Parlowitz, a Russian pianist of eminence, accompanies the quartet on this tour.

The Westminster Choir, Concert Party of fifteen members will give a series of five concerts. This company visited here some three years ago and left a splendid impression. The singing of the boy sopranos and the male altos was most charming, and novel. This time the company is larger and comprises five boy sopranos, two male altos, two tenors, two basses, besides a contralto soloist and a famous London humorist.

As lecturers we are to have Richard Outcalt, the great cartoonist from whose brain evolved the "Yaller Kid" and "Buster Brown" pictures, which all our young ones simply love. Edwin Hansen will give his beautifully illustrated travel talks on "The Great Southwest." Fraulein Stolle of the Berlin Academy of Art and at present a prominent teacher of art in Boston, will give a series of talks on the Art Galleries of Europe, illustrated with lantern slides of the great paintings of the various galleries, each one accurately colored from the original by Fraulein Stolle by a process of her own. In addition to these, Mr. Greenbaum will give a series of Sunday afternoon "Pop" concerts at very low prices, so that students and music lovers will have an opportunity of hearing great music at a price not to be met in the musical centers of Europe.

HEARD PRETTY MUSIC AS HE FELL FROM ALPS.

Professor Hein, geologist and Alpine climber, at a meeting of the Swiss Alpine Club, described the sensations he experienced in falling from a high precipice in the Saentles Alps.

He was not troubled in breathing, and felt none of the paralyzing terror which usually overwhelms men in the face of a sudden catastrophe. He felt tranquil, but was endowed with unusual mental activity. Varied thoughts and ideas flashed rapidly through his brain.

A thousand long-forgotten incidents of his past life came pleasantly to his memory. Then came the sound of soft and soothing music, and at that instant he knew that he had struck ground.

He lost consciousness absolutely without pain or the slightest sensation of shock.—Philadelphia North American.

"HAYSEED" BALL JUDSON MAY NOT A SUCCESS REBUILD

MEMBERS OF THIS CLUB DE-LIGHT A LARGE NUMBER OF FRIENDS. NEW SITE WILL PROBABLY BE CHOSEN FOR POWDER WORKS.

LIVERMORE, August 22.—The "Hayseed Ball," given by a number of young men who call themselves the "Hayseed Club," given Saturday night at the Sweeney Opera House, was an entire success as the social feature of the year. The young men have been planning this affair for some months past, and gave the people not only a dance but a small vaudeville program as well. The special features were given by imported talent and included a trombone solo by Leo Sullivan of San Jose and several monologues by Milton Schwartz of Oakland. A novel feature of the evening was the reproduction of a hay loading crew in which a team of four goats drew a load of small bales of hay, which were weighed and loaded in an exact reproduction of the method of hauling the baled hay in the large warehouses. Suitable gate prizes were also awarded to the tickets bearing the lucky numbers. The music was furnished by Brokeshe's Orchestra of San Jose. About one hundred and forty couples attended and all were enthusiastic over the entertainment provided by the "Hayseeds."

VISIT LODGE.

A delegation of about ten of the members of the local order of The Fraternal Brotherhood drove to Haywards to attend an initiation and banquet given by the Haywards lodge.

The Stockton Stars won from the local nine a hard fought game of ball by a score of 8 to 6, last Sunday.

PERSONAL.

Will Byington, who has been visiting for the past month, returned home to San Francisco Sunday.

Miss Clara Deaton of San Francisco was the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. Towhey, Sunday.

Miss Albertine Bernal paid a visit Sunday to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Bernal.

Ed Kennedy returned Sunday from the examinations at Stanford.

Tom Knox of San Francisco spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. Knox.

Tom Scott of San Francisco is visiting with friends here.

Jack Peters of Oakland spent Sunday in town, visiting friends and relatives.

REVIVAL MEETING.

Dr. Grammer of the First New Thought Church will conduct a revival meeting this evening at 1006 Webster street. His subject will be "The Human Soul."

POINT RICHMOND, August 22.—The disastrous explosion at the Judson powder works last week has caused the company to hesitate about rebuilding on the present site. Until the matter has been decided the employees have all been laid off. No steps for rebuilding have yet been taken. A guard is maintained to keep people off the grounds, but that is all that is being done.

BRIEFLETS.

John Galbraith will start a new five-room cottage to cost $1500 this week on the lot adjoining Geo. Dimick's property on Fourth avenue. Conn Bros. have the contract.

The Antioch Ledger says: The new steamer Atlas, owned by the Standard Oil Company, and stationed at Richmond, was being tested on the river near here this week.

Otto Ludwig has transformed the old Richmond market into sleeping quarters for the single men in his employ. He has also built a large barn in the rear for his horses.

Rev. Schaefer, Saratoga, former State evangelist, preached a able discourse in the Christian Church last evening.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Chas. Johnson is taking a lay-off from the Santa Fe yards for a few days and is making some improvements on his home on First street.

Dr. H. Hildreth of Delano was in town yesterday, visiting E. H. Ramsey of the Richmond Pharmacy. Dr. Hildreth is one of the best known physicians in California, and has been president of the San Joaquin Valley Medical Association for the past two years.

Sam Barton, who was injured recently while at work in the Santa Fe yards, is up and around again.

J. O. Ford of Merced, a brother-in-law of Mrs. J. S. Moyle, came up Saturday and is spending a few days in Richmond.

Mrs. M. D. Keeney of Seattle and Miss May Scholtes of Santa Ana, sisters of J. N. Scholtes, who resides on Nevins avenue, are here on a visit. Mrs. Baker's condition is somewhat improved today and it is thought she will soon be up again.

NOVELTY THEATER.

The bill presented at the Novelty Theater was far ahead of anything yet seen at this house. The program was well appreciated by all those present, each number was well applauded. The feature act this week is a comedy sketch by Marshall & Lorraine, presenting a roaring skit, entitled Ragtime Liz—Queen of Bowery, which is a scream from start to finish. These artists are a show by themselves, creating a wave of laughter, and are the best comedy artists in vaudeville today.

Ellen Dougherty, baritone, sang by special request the ever-popular song, "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree," which was rendered in fine style and was well encored.

The Maerlins Comedy team do a very clever act, they have a lot of comedy surprises which were well received. They sing well and Master Maerle does a good impersonation of a young lady in good style, which made a big hit. Their act is certainly high class and they have the entertaining abilities.

Mme. Laline, Tyrolean Warbler, has but few equals as a singer. She rendered her songs last night in a charming manner and was well received. Powers & Freed, musical artists, are refined musicians, playing on several instruments. Their act was well applauded; they also play on water glasses and made a big hit.

The moving pictures are new and interesting and completed an excellent program.

Next week, direct from the East, America's greatest, the four Roberts, presenting their comedy sketch, the Doll Maker's Dilemma, said to be the best sketch seen in vaudeville. Another scream from start to finish.

Is Prompt and Pleasant. The prompt results produced by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy, together with its pleasant taste, have won for it a place in many households. Mr. W. T. Taylor, a merchant of Winslow, Ala., writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy myself and also with me on my place, for diarrhoea and colic, and it always gives relief promptly and pleasantly." For sale by Osgood Bros. cor. 12th and Washington streets and cor. 7th and Broadway.
